

Experience B&O Beoplay A1 speakers with OPPO Find X2 flagship smartphone

B&O Beoplay A1 speakers Included for pre-order customers of OPPO Find X2 from March 16 to the end of March 31, what's the attractive B&O Beoplay A1 speakers? Let's find out the super-class duo products are extremely hot during this time!

Find X2 is the flagship phone of OPPO which was launched in March this year with the most pioneering and the best technology for users. And to contribute to the enhancement of that ultimate experience, OPPO offers the Beoplay A1 speaker from the high-end brand B&O as a gratitude to customers for pre-ordering this premium product.

Taking a look around Google, you can see many foreign technology sites that appreciate the Beoplay A1 wireless speaker, such as: "One of the best Bluetooth speaker products available today, and in terms of appearance. Look at it, do we need to say more about this beauty? ", from Trusted Reviews.

So how impressive is the appearance of the high-end Beoplay A1 speaker?

B&O is known as a brand that produces quality speakers, not only in sound but also in appearance. And with this Beoplay A1, the product promises to please any audio enthusiast.

Directly aimed at the eyes of the user is a compact, circular speaker with a luxurious shiny aluminum alloy design and on the face with small sounding cells. This design is somewhat minimalist, but still exudes the power of a portable speaker. In addition, its moderate size makes it easy to carry around, whether it's male or female, turning it into a high-class accessory in the hand or hanging in a corner of the room.

The control key cluster is located on the side of the speaker and gives very good touch feedback. Besides Power, Volume, Beoplay A1 also provides one more key for users to customize as desired by setting in the Settings section of the application.

The top half of the speaker body is made of shiny alloy, while the lower part is made of high quality rubber.

One point not to be missed is the leather strap that hooks into the speaker body, creating a more luxurious accent for the Beoplay A1 speaker, next to the OPPO Find X2 flagship product.

Premium quality and perfect experience

This speaker has a lot of advantages that we can take advantage of, such as connecting Bluetooth with another Beoplay A1 speaker to form a pair of super-great music playback in your entertainment room. Besides, 3.5mm connection is also provided for you to connect to any player without Bluetooth.

The sound quality of Beoplay A1 is quite bright when compared to other competitors in the market. Although you may have liked this speaker for its eye-catching and luxurious appearance, until the sound comes out, everything will surprise you and immerse you even more.

With its small size, you will not expect that the bass of Beoplay A1 is so solid and deep. This does not mean that this speaker is only bass-oriented, in fact, it has a balance in all three sound ranges, something that very few product lines can do.

If the bass part shows the power of the speaker. The Mid sound of A1 is quite clear, "ngot" and not overwhelmed to other bands. According to the parameters provided by B&O, the maximum power for this speaker is 140Wx2, all thanks to the manufacturer equipped with two tweeters and woofer and class D 30W amplifier.

When testing the volume up to 90%, the sound quality is still very good, clear, the transmission capacity is still impressive without being distorted and distorted.

Beoplay A1 is an impressive product from B&O. And especially, it is a gift with the latest OPPO Find X2 flagship product for customers who deposit from March 16 to March 31. A convergence phone quality, a series of features and the ultimate appearance when combined with this speaker is a perfect pair of flagship phones for those who love the top technology.

Find X2 is a new flagship product with the most advanced configuration from Oppo today. 3-camera system using Sony IMX586 sensor, 2K 120Hz AMOLED screen, SuperVOOC 2.0 65W super fast charging technology, Snapdragon 865 processor, integrated dual-mode 5G network.
