The born-up dish dryer meets the hustle and bustle of human life. They are very helpful for housewives. This article, we will share with you some experience to be able to choose the best cup dryer for the family.

What is a cup dryer?

A cup dryer , also known as a dish dryer or dish dryer , is a high-end household appliance used in restaurants, cafes, hotels and some households. This machine has the function of drying, sterilizing all kinds of dishes, spoon chopsticks . by ultraviolet rays. Therefore, the chopsticks will be dried quickly and extremely assured of hygiene.

Using a cup dryer makes the washing process more convenient and quicker, you will not have to waste much time or dry the bowl as before.

Experience choosing to buy the best quality cup dryer

Here are some things to keep in mind before choosing to buy the best quality dryer for your family:

1. Choose the type of cup dryer

The current dish dryer is divided into 2 categories: wall-mounted cup dryer and vertical-cup dryer.

Choosing which model depends on the space of each family's kitchen space. If your kitchen is spacious enough, you can choose a stand-alone model. With this type of machine, they will help you to dry more bowls. In addition, independent bowl dryer is also quite eye-catching design, helping the kitchen furniture become more luxurious and comfortable.

2. Choice of bactericidal technology

Besides the series of bowl dryers using UV sterilization technology, there are also some models using ozone technology. This type of machine is quite cheap, but the quality and safety are not comparable with the UV sterilizer.

You can base on your family's economic conditions to make the most reasonable decision.

3. Select cup dryer according to capacity

Dish dryer has a wide range of capacities. Based on the actual use needs at home or the number of members, you will easily find the appropriate capacity.

For example, a family of about 2-4 members can choose a machine with a capacity of 150-200 liters. If your family has 5 or more people, you can choose a machine with a capacity of 200-300 liters.

4. Select brand

The bowl dryer brand also has a great influence on their quality. Do not be cheap but choose machines that do not have a clear origin. A reputable brand, used by many people will be the best suggestions for you.

Notes when using the cup dryer

After choosing a good quality machine, during the process of use, you should also note some of the following to ensure the best performance:

1. Before you put the dish in the machine, remember to empty the excess water in the bowl.
2. When the machine is operating, do not open the door because it will cause heat loss, which leads to a longer drying time.
3. When you need to clean the machine, use a soft towel through moist water to wipe both the inside and outside of the machine.
4. Absolutely do not use strong cleaning pads to clean the machine.
5. Do not use metal or metal scouring pads to clean the device.
