

Experience playing games on Apple Arcade service

To know how Apple Arcade interface is, how to play the game above, how to register ... how to invite you to monitor the preliminary experience video of 9to5mac below.

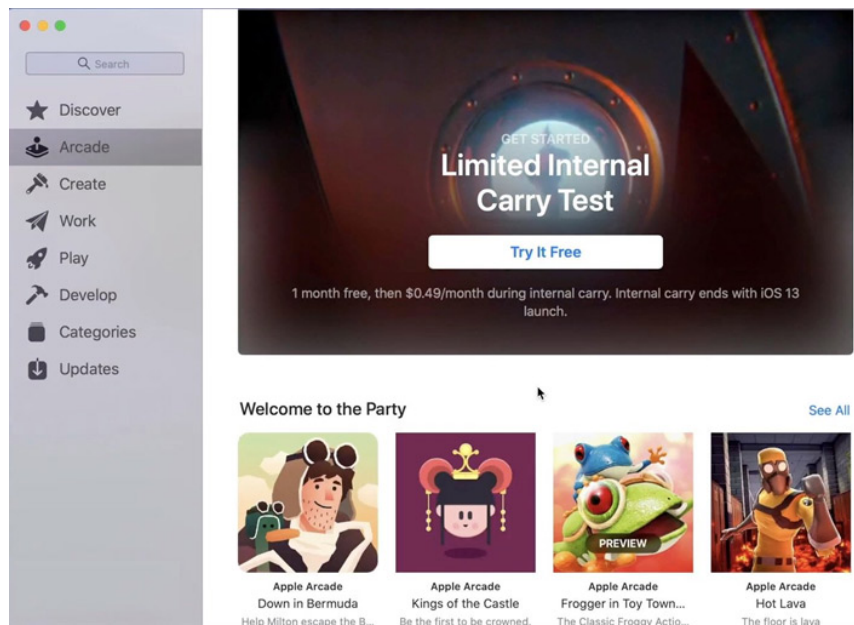

Currently, only a few special users have been used before beta Apple Arcade, Apple's exclusive gaming service on the App Store. To know how Apple Arcade interface is, how to play the game above, how to register . how to invite you to monitor the preliminary experience video of 9to5mac below.

According to recent leaked information, the Apple Arcade gaming service will be released at the same time as iOS / iPadOS 13 and tvOS next September. The price of Apple Arcade service package is 4.99 USD / month, users can experience more than 100 high quality offline and online games.

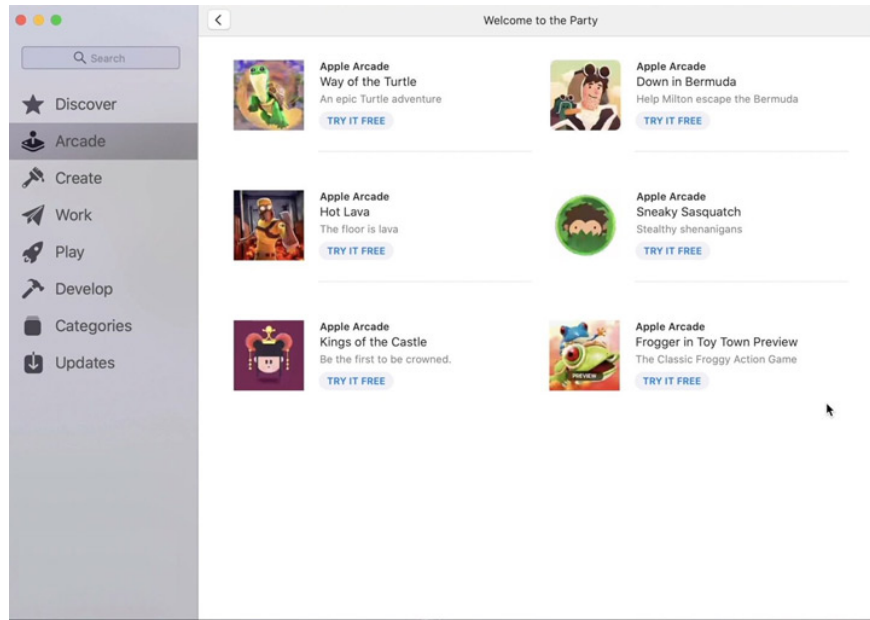

Basically, most Apple devices like iPhone, iPod, iPad, Mac and Apple TV can experience gaming on Apple Arcade. Users can subscribe to a monthly service package such as Apple Music or Apple TV via iCloud, which can be shared to 6 other people in the house.

With Apple Arcade, users will be able to play exclusive games from Apple, playing online or offline, can play with controllers from Sony or Microsoft .

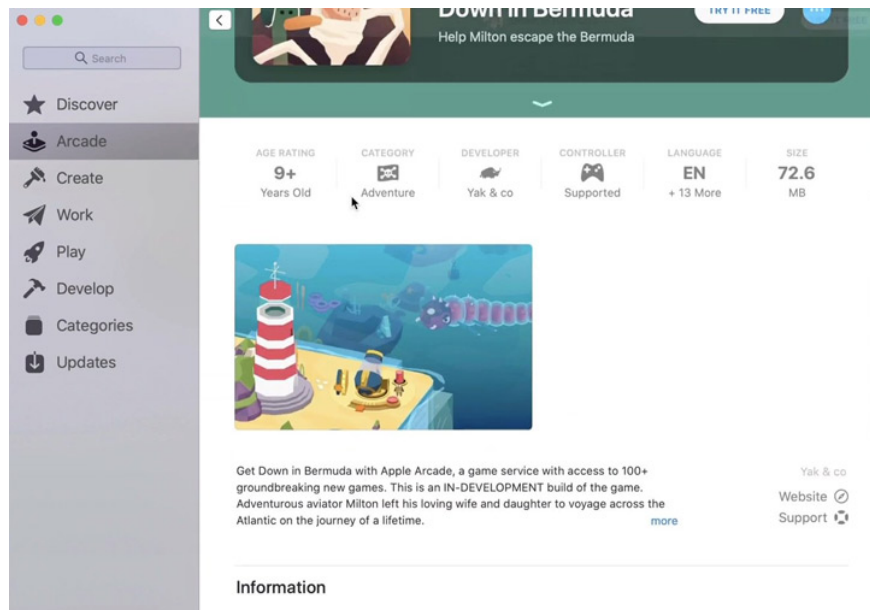

When accessing the Arcade section of the App Store, users will see the "Try It Free" button appear. To try Arcade on the App Store from now until iOS 13 officially launches, users will have to pay 0.49 USD.

Users can only play 6 games.

Clicking on each game will see detailed information about the category, content, capacity, whether to support the controller, the appropriate age to play the game .

1. Facebook will remove games from the Messenger application
2. This is why you should plug in the network cable when playing games instead of using wifi

You finished reading the article "Experience playing games on Apple Arcade service" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.