

Experience the new Block Breaker game on Google Search

Google Search has just updated the Block Breaker game for users to experience. Currently, the game has been updated on many different Google platforms so we can play on many different devices.

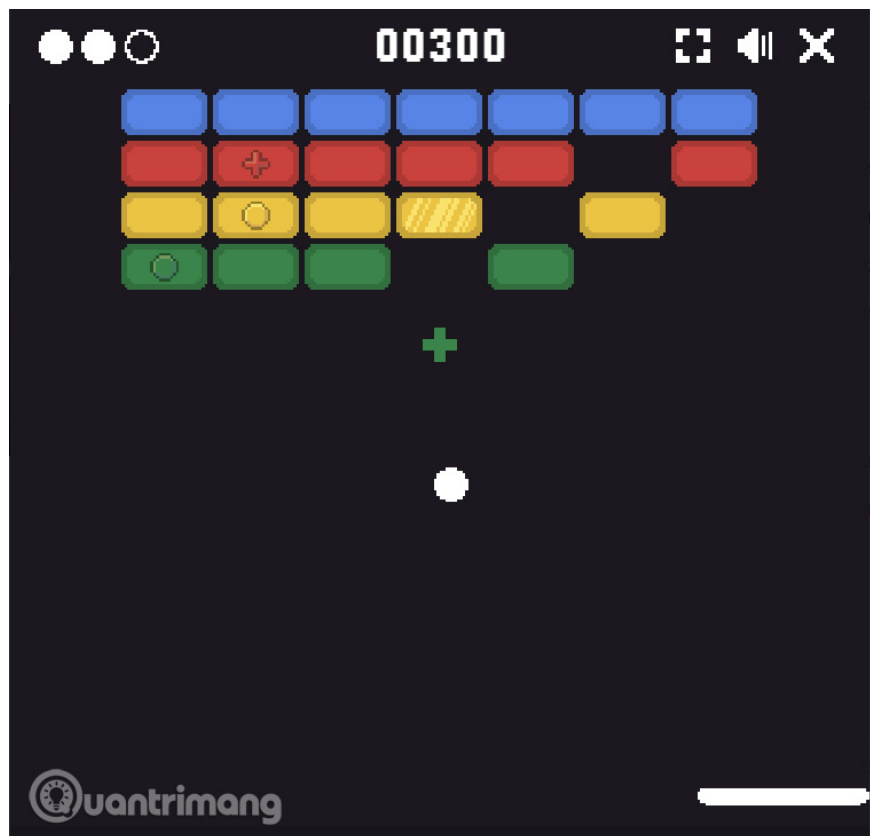

Google Search has just updated the Block Breaker game for users to experience. Currently, the game has been updated on many different Google platforms so we can play on many different devices. You just need to enter the keyword Block Breaker in the search bar on Google and then click Play below.

The Block Breaker game on Google Search has four rows of blocks in blue, red, yellow and green. Your task is to use the ball below to break the colored bricks above. Some blocks are easier to break, so you get less points, while other blocks have items inside. You can get extra lives in addition to the initial three lives.

Your score is noted at the top for quick reference. Block Breaker has sound effects as we play the game and if we want to turn them off, we can just turn off the speakers. On mobile, you move the ball tray by direct manipulation or touch, while on desktop, you use the left/right arrow keys.

You finished reading the article "Experience the new Block Breaker game on Google Search" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
