More than just a high-speed browser, IE9 is a redesigned Web browser that allows 'Web pages' to shine through providing tools for developers to create. Beautiful web experiences without degrading user access speed.

As can be seen, almost every job transaction, or search and information sharing . is done on the web. Mr. Malcolm De Silva - General Director of Microsoft Vietnam said, 'Browsing is the most popular activity that Windows users do every day. Making the web richer and better is all about Internet Explorer 9.'

IE9 realizes the future of the Internet by using the latest web development technology standards such as HTML 5. When combining performance improvements available in the Windows operating system platform, and combining it with acceleration capabilities Hardware level in IE9, you get HTML5 supported by Graphics Processing Unit (GPU). This is a solution that helps developers achieve success because they can provide rich applications loaded quickly and run smoothly.

While websites and browsers can currently only exploit about 10% of the PC's capacity, IE9 has maximized computing power in an unprecedented way. The rich graphics and interactive capabilities currently associated with PC applications such as PowerPoint and Word will become available on web applications, thanks to IE9's enhanced performance.

Lu Thanh Long, president of MISA Group, said: 'Internet Explorer 9 is very supportive of iweb standards, an important factor for the Internet today and with the future web. We can get more time to focus on creativity while still reducing wasted time on ensuring support for many different browsers.'

Not only does it meet the demand for access speed, this latest web browser has really made its mark by its high security and reliability features that hardly any browser can have. When browsing the web and the information is always guaranteed with high reliability, it is always a matter of top priority for any internet user.

Regarding the security of online security, Mr. Hoang Chi Thang, in charge of CRM of Comverse company, also commented: " The level of awareness of Vietnamese Internet users on safety issues in the The network needs to be strengthened, reinforcing the awareness of network security more than ever becomes essential, to keep up with the growing number of network users. today includes children, so parents need to play a more active role to ensure safe online experience for children "

The hopes of ' owning ' the most trusted browser with high security features, ensuring privacy and solid reliability make internet users safer when online has become a reality, because IE9 has inherited Internet Explorer 8's top protection features:

- Download Manager integrates SmartScreen Filter: Internet Explorer 9 provides Download Manager download management capabilities with built-in malware protection with SmartScreen file download reputation. SmartScreen is IE9's groundbreaking function that uses reputable data to remove alerts for secure files and give dangerous warnings for potentially malicious downloads.

Users often ignore the warning message when downloading files because most browsers offer the same warning, regardless of whether the downloaded file is a popular program or malicious code created a few minutes ago. Internet Explorer 9 is the only browser that uses file download reputation information to help users make safe decisions.

- Add-on Performance Advisor: Add-on Performance Advisor notifies users when an add-on is slowing down their browsing session. By default, the user is notified if the total download time of all add-ons has been activated greater than 0.2 seconds, giving them the opportunity to make a rational decision about using the add-ons available. value and abandon ineffective programs or compromise performance.

- Improved reliability features: Quarantine tags, automatically recover after hanging in Internet Explorer 9 to help ensure user information is not lost and browse the web when the website is not stable

Currently, IE9 has 33 supported languages ??and is available for users to download for free globally at <http://www.BeautyoftheWeb.com> and www.ie9.vn
