

Extremely creative room ideas around the world

To prevent the spread of disease, many places have used the following extremely innovative disease prevention measures. Let's take care to help fly the disease, bring health to the community!

The Covid-19 pandemic is becoming a global concern, seriously affecting the personal lives of millions of people worldwide and the global economy.

To prevent the spread of disease, many places have used the following extremely innovative disease prevention measures. Let's take care to help fly the disease, bring health to the community!

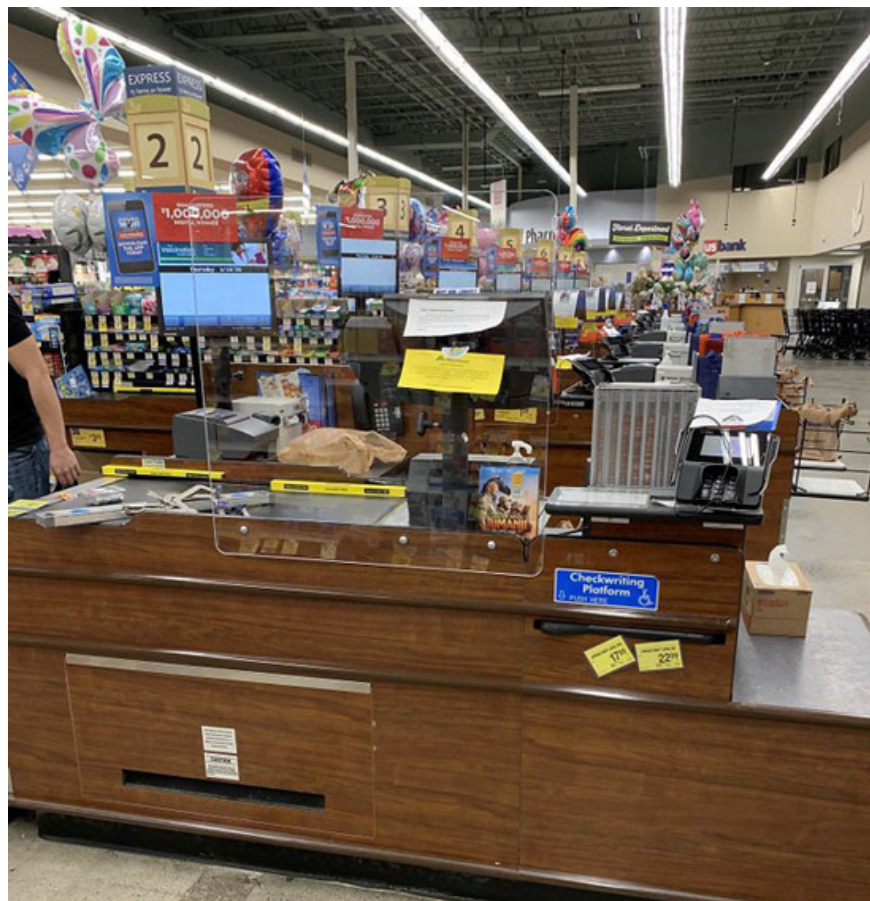

Do not press the elevator with your hands, use a toothpick.

A museum in Finland has repositioned the exhibition so people don't need to squeeze each other.

Convenience stores have plastic safety pads at the checkout.

One company distributed the key chain as a hand-washing gel tube to every employee.

This Starbuck store has cleaned up the furniture to help guests gather.

The waiting room at some dentist's office has been rearranged.

Play Bingo must also keep a distance to ensure safety.

A hospital has opened a buffet stalls so health workers can come and get their own food bags after stressful shifts!

A guy talks to his father when he is ordered to block nursing homes.

You neighbors gossip, just keep the distance 2m or more.

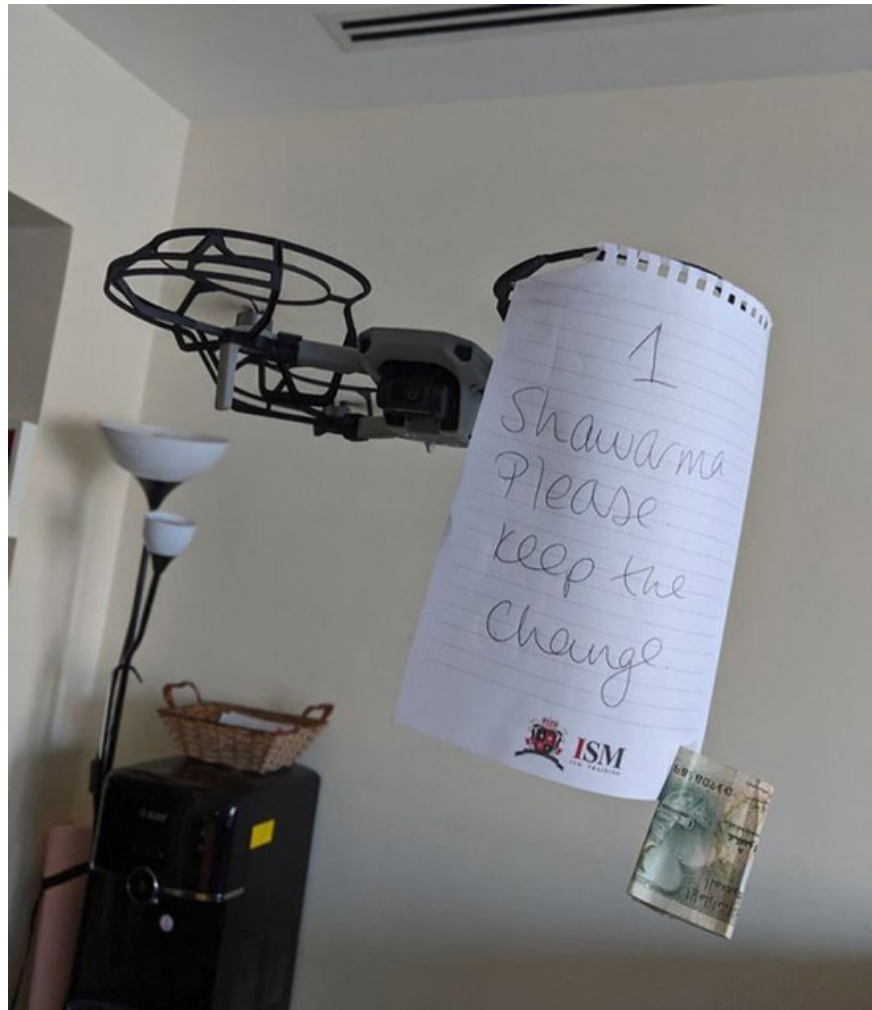

In New Zealand, there is a department store for the elderly at supermarkets only.

Slovakia's female president wears gloves and masks to set an example for the people.

Technology is on the rise in epidemics, paying odd money via flycam.

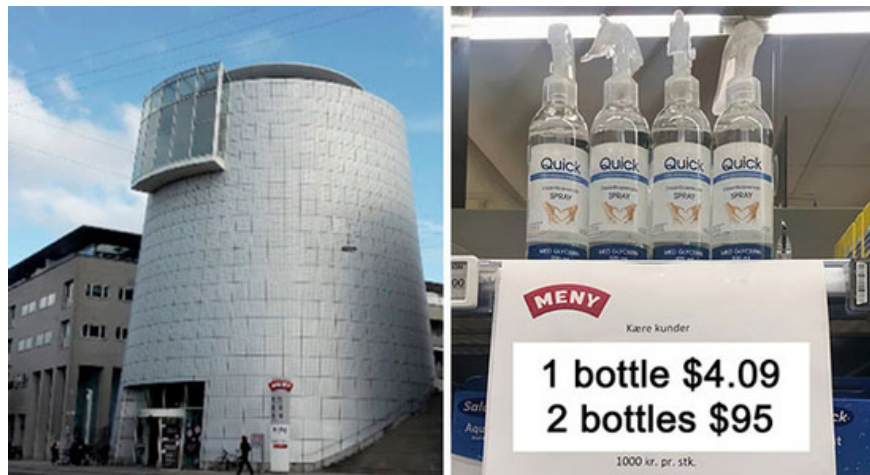

In the United States, there have been hand washing sinks for the homeless.

Someone tied a hand sanitizer bottle to an electric pole of hand sanitizer bottles and everyone could kill bacteria at any time!

In order for people not to compete to buy all the water to wash their hands, people have come up with a very effective measure, 1 average price of 4.09 dollars, 2 purchase prices will skyrocket to 95 dollars!

"Thank you to those who cannot read this banner. Please stay at home", the content of an advertisement.

Red dots line up during epidemic seasons to help buyers keep a safe distance.

To be able to interview from afar, this reporter stuck a microphone on the hockey stick.

You finished reading the article "Extremely creative room ideas around the world" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---