Now, Lite users can send text messages, photos, links and voice calls to all Messenger users.

To start Messenger Lite video calls, simply find the person you want to call in your contacts and click the video icon in the upper right corner of the screen or simply start the conversation.

Surprisingly, despite the added video calling feature, Messenger Lite users can download it and open it quickly because it still has less than 10 MB capacity. Currently, the video call feature is currently only available on Messenger Lite for Android.
