

Facebook launches Birthday Stories feature, which helps create greeting cards for friends

Facebook has just launched a new feature called Birthday Stories on a global scale.

Facebook has just launched a new feature called Birthday Stories on a global scale. The new feature allows friends, relatives and all members of your community to add photos, videos, music stickers, wishes or birthday cards to their News to congratulate your birthday.

You will receive unexpected joys on your birthday with vivid and fun-filled wishes.

When the birthday of a friend arrives, the user will receive an invitation to send greetings in Stories. Click on it, you can create your own unique, fun wishes to send to that person by taking or uploading short photos / videos. In addition, Facebook also offers a lot of birthday cards available for you to choose from. Your greetings and others will be made into a slideshow of that friend's unique birthday on Birthday Stories

Watch the illustrated video below to see the unique and interesting when you use the Birthday Stories feature to create a birthday for your friend.

You finished reading the article "Facebook launches Birthday Stories feature, which helps create greeting cards for friends" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.