

Finally the virtual assistant Google Assistant also officially launched on May 6, after the release of the trial version

Google recently confirmed the virtual assistant Google Assistant officially supports Vietnamese.

Google recently confirmed the virtual assistant Google Assistant officially supports Vietnamese. A press conference called "Google Assistant Hello Vietnam" will be held by Google on May 6, 2019 here in Ho Chi Minh City to announce the launch of this virtual assistant in our country.

Thus, when Google Assistant is officially present in Vietnam, instead of having to use English or another foreign language, users can use the command (both voice and text) in Vietnamese to ask questions, query information on Google Assistant.

Virtual Assistant Google Assistant supports Vietnamese.

Google Assistant is the first virtual voice assistant to support Vietnamese from large technology corporations. iPhone users can download and install the Google Assistant application on the App Store to the device to use instead of Siri.

In addition to querying information, Google Assistant is also used to control smart devices in the home such as lights, sockets, surveillance cameras, speakers, etc. Therefore, the support of Google Assistant is not just news. Great fun for smartphone users, but also very much support for Smart Home community (smart home), making Smart Home operation will become easier and more accurate.

Previously, Google also updated the new Vietnamese voice reading naturally and "less" than the old voice on some applications like Google Translate or Google Maps directions.

You finished reading the article "Finally the virtual assistant Google Assistant also officially launched on May 6, after the release of the trial version" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.