

Free use of Google Apps For Your Domain service

In the past week, Google Apps For Your Domain testing service has been provided to users through invitations to send to Google user emails. If you already have a separate domain name, you can use the Google Apps For Your Domain service completely

In the past week, Google Apps For Your Domain testing service has been provided to users through invitations to send to Google user emails. If you already have a domain name, you can use Google Apps For Your Domain service completely free of charge. You can also register via the website at <http://www.google.com/a/> in just three simple steps.

1. After entering the website, enter google account to login.
2. After login is completed, you choose your domain name to register to use.
3. After completing the above steps, you can use the free Google Apps For Your Domain service on your domain name with many convenient services.

With Google Apps For Your Domain service, you can use the following services:

- Email service with existing domain name . This service is similar to Gmail, but you can customize your email address with the option to set up for users.
- Chat Gtalk service . Allow you to chat online on the Website without installing a chat program.
- Calendar service lets you schedule your work more efficiently.

- Domain Webpages service for you to create a website is simple through many nice templates provided.

Hopefully with this service, your personal website will be made Google more efficient and more convenient for users to visit.

Pham Le Minh Dinh

You finished reading the article "Free use of Google Apps For Your Domain service" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.