

Genshin Impact: Why hasn't Fischl been re-run for the past 6 months?

Since its first release in Genshin Impact in June 2021, Fischl has been completely neglected by the developer miHoYo.

Since her first appearance in Genshin Impact in June 2021 until now, the Lightning-type archer girl Fischl has not had a re-run banner even though the game has undergone more than 7 updates. And this has made many gamers find it difficult to understand and wonder.

Fischl is currently the longest 4-star absentee in Genshin Impact, if not counting some characters who don't have their own story missions like Xinyan. This is indeed a pity because Fischl's Zodiac system still has a lot of potential to develop and turn her into a much stronger character.

And recently, the reason for Fischl's absence has finally been revealed. Specifically, the Chinese voice actor for Fischl's crow Oz was terminated by miHoYo due to the outbreak of a love scandal. Accordingly, this person often uses his roles to ... solicit female fans even after being married for more than a month.

The above reason was leaked after this guy participated in a TV show to find a lover after divorcing his wife, but was flatly rejected. After that, all secret information related to this actor's love life was revealed on social networks around the end of September 2021. And this is the reason why miHoYo and many others could not be more reasonable. Another game company in China terminated the contract with this guy.

However, this inadvertently is the reason why miHoYo temporarily does not want to bring back Fischl in a new version banner, as well as in Genshin Impact missions until a suitable voice actor is found. for Oz.

You finished reading the article "Genshin Impact: Why hasn't Fischl been re-run for the past 6 months?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.