

Getac S400 - Super durable laptop

Getac has just announced the S400 laptop model, which is specially designed for use in many areas such as services, schools, public places, offices ...

Getac has just announced the S400 laptop model, which is specially designed for use in many areas such as services, schools, public places, offices as well as military applications.

The machine is manufactured to meet the US IP5X waterproof standard and the durability standard of US military MIL STD 810G with shock resistance, high temperature resistance and vibration.

With S400 users can choose Intel Core i5-520M processor or Intel Core i3-350M, DDR3 2 GB RAM memory (can be upgraded to a maximum of 8 GB), optional integrated graphics system Intel GMA HD or Nvidia GeForce G310M, SATA 320 GB hard drive or 80 GB SSD, 14 inch screen (with multi-touch option), 1366x768 resolution, PCMCIA Type II expansion slot and Express card 34/54 mm.

In addition, the device also supports Bluetooth, Wi-Fi, optional GPS and 3G, fingerprint scanner. Getac S400 has a size of 348x258x49.2 mm, weighing 2.9 kg, installing Windows 7 Professional starting at $ 1799 and will start selling at the end of November 2010.

You finished reading the article "Getac S400 - Super durable laptop" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.