Reed glass

Glass mop is a familiar cleaning tool for every family. This tool includes: The long, small cylindrical body, which can be customized to suit the needs of cleaning and the cloth (or towel) at the top of the tree used to clean the glass surface.

Advantages

The biggest advantage of this glass cleaning tool is the price. Normally, glass-cleaning products on the market are cheap, suitable for the financial conditions and needs of Vietnamese consumers.

In addition, you can also replace the cleaning cloth (glass wipe) in case this part is broken. This helps you not to waste money, but to buy a whole new set of glass cleaners for the family.

Defect

However, this cleaning tool also has many disadvantages for users:

1. Glass reels often use stainless steel material for grip. This makes users feel heavy when holding tools, making home cleaning activities more difficult and more tired.
2. The handle of the glass wipe does not have the ability to extend, causing inconvenience for users in the process of cleaning the position of windows and glass doors high above.
3. Users of reels usually have to use a separate cleaning solution spray during cleaning the glass window. This causes you to perform more hygiene operations than usual, wasting time cleaning up.
4. Using a manual glass cleaner can cause the cleaning effect to be less than what you expected (such as the glass may still leave streaks of water, many of the edges are difficult to clean because human hands and hands cannot reach, . .).

Glass cleaner

A glass cleaner (also known as a glass window cleaner) is a convenient cleaning-cleaning device that makes it easy to clean the glass window through the spray function of cleaning solution and Absorb dirt that remains on the surface of the glass. This device can be used to clean glass; window; mirrors, rearview mirrors and windshields on cars; .

Advantages

1. All types of glass cleaners on the market come with built-in high quality microfiber spray cloths and towels. This makes the window cleaning effect much better than other cleaning tools.
2. With a convenient handle, flexible extension cord and a 360-degree swivel head, you can use the glass cleaner to clean any surface of objects, even at angles that are not in the hands of humans. accessible.
3. Glass cleaner device can easily disassemble handle, wipe cotton easily. This makes cleaning and maintenance of tools easier and faster.
