

Good stt for those who are away from home

Away from home is the most meaningful: Being away from home is also a challenge, isn't it? Life away from home will teach us many things. Let each of us realize that people are far from being big and far from being more mature ...

Homesickness is always standing in each of us but cannot say anything when you are sadest in the face of the chaos of life plus the difficulties that you encounter when away from your homeland and expatriates on your land. The stt remember family is the words about certain memories that are far away, where there is a warm love of parents, a familiar scene of the homeland, there are friends who have with them I spent a peaceful childhood. Homesickness is not something that can be counted more or less, deeply or shallowly, it is merely a desire to return to the family, to the homeland, to relatives, friends, About the most simple things. Good words about family life will definitely ease the family's nostalgia and then try to rise up in the difficulties and chaos of life when away from home. To help you easier in finding the stt far from home as well as the status away from the following article we would like to offer you the best stt away from home, the most readable for you to refer.

1. Do you know, sometimes you eat expensive items, but why do you crave vegetable soup for your mother? No dishes can replace my mother's dishes, no one can cook for me a meal full of love like 'mother chef', Mom. Any child who has traveled far away must have a day to return to his homeland, find his family after a time of adventure because there is no warm and peaceful place like his mother's arms.

2. Homesickness is when in the middle of a busy life in the auditorium, the difficulties that we encounter in the land of visitors, we suddenly remember certain areas of memories, far away, where there is love. The warmth of the parents, with the familiar scenery of the homeland, there are friends who we have spent with our peaceful childhood.

3. 'No perfect mother .

But there will always be mothers who love their children most perfectly . '

Pick up the phone and call your mother!

4. Away from home, we know that people have to live together by love, not by small calculations, chen and selfishness. Love those who live next to us, how long does life last?

5. Away from home, we know more than our compatriots and friends. To live in a strange place to feel all the happiness when encountering a familiar voice of our country, understand the warmth of friends when there is no family next door.

6. And then, we burst into tears because we felt lost, feeling helpless in the middle of the city in a bustle, where there were no relatives next to me, only the friends who were new and all seemed strange. .

7. Away from home, we know we have to stand up by ourselves when we accidentally collapsed. Being strong enough to be resilient to the thorns, never to bow to the two words of 'failure', never to allow yourself to stop in front of difficulties .

8. Away from home, we are more and more appreciative of the hours when we are near our families in the short days of 'jumping' to visit our hometown. Each of us understands the worries, the love, the concerns of parents .

9. I am more sorry when I see a silver hair on the head of my father, feeling more sad with a wrinkle on my mother's face . Between the chen, the town of urban life like being too rushed Hey, isn't the most peaceful place to be a family?

10. Away from home is also a challenge, isn't it? Life away from home will teach us many things. Let each of us realize that people are far from being big and far from being more mature .

11. This society is cramped, it makes me feel so out of place, Mom! I want to go home, want to sleep in my mother's arms, want to relive the life of a child like any other day. I don't want to have to work on my own, endure and accept it myself . Mom! I want to go home! I miss home!

12. In life, sometimes we are easy to appreciate . with small actions that some people around make for us, but for those who are close, especially parents, we see sacrifice. theirs is a matter of course .

13. Father loves children silently but vigorously . is the fulcrum, giving me the will, energy, righteousness or righteousness in my life and my father who taught my children early life lessons!
14. Love your father's skinny shoulders . love the persistent perspiration that falls under the blazing sunshine of your father!
15. The family is a place that is willing to tolerate all bad things, all your bad points, but always hope you can become better.
16. In this life, no one will be willing to accept responsibility for your mistakes, then comfort and comfort you.
17. I returned to my hometown of Vietnam, watching the kite busy with flying directions. We go back to the hectic rice fields, the same year of ecstasy in the season.
18. I have been away for so many days, not enough days, how long do I miss my homeland. How poor is the country where I miss my love, how many people are always waiting for me
19. Homesickness is a bit like feeling immersed after breaking up. Sometimes you just suffer and eat too much ice cream for a few days - but then you need to get up.
20. The best thing in the world is, when I grow up, my parents are not old. When I have enough capacity to repay my parents, my parents are still healthy.
21. We are like blood-sucking insects, from birth we cling to our parents, sucked sips, took sips of blood, so much so that our parents' backs were handcuffed, so much that their mother's hair was gray. .
22. Parents with the wind and the wind wear rain and rain to receive you back, but don't want the sky to see you off.

23. Remembering home is a bit like feeling immersed after breaking up. Sometimes you just suffer and eat too much ice cream for a few days - but then you need to get up.

24. Going to the street, drinking a glass of sugarcane juice also has to pay

At home, hot and delicious rice every day is free

Going to the street, a tiny wet towel is rarely given away

Back home, I don't know how many clothes my parents bought for me to fill

Leaving the road, borrowing 50,000 without paying is said to say down

Back home, it would cost hundreds of millions, but my parents didn't ask for a penny

There is money in hand, people go to the street with friends

Out of money, people often go home with their parents and family

When happy, people often take the car away

When sad, painful, extreme, people return to that unique place

Going away and seeing it, Family is not simply a name !!!

25. Good words about life away from home make everyone read tears well. Because we all feel a bit from life. Always be firm before your life challenges. Then everything will be fine. Home is always the most solid fulcrum for our souls. It's hard outside there, please come home

See more:

1. The most sincere apologies
2. These stt or talk about betrayal in friendship
3. Summarize the best moods about rain

You finished reading the article "Good stt for those who are away from home" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.