

Google is about to unveil the Chromebook 12.85-inch model

Chinese news site China Times has revealed that Google will unveil its own brand of Chromebook laptop later this year.

Chinese news site China Times has revealed that Google will unveil its own brand of Chromebook laptop later this year.

The source said the product has a 12.85-inch screen, with touch features included.

Earlier, the "search giant" launched its own branded smartphones and tablets, so having a 'Google' Chromebook is essential for the company to diversify its device portfolio. .

According to China Times, unlike the Nexus 4 smartphone or Nexus 7 tablet, Google will not hire an established OEM partner to produce a new Chromebook model.

Instead, they took the supply of touch screens from Wintek and hired Taiwan's Compal Electronics to assemble.
