

Google redesigned sharing dialogs on Drive, Docs, Sheets, Slides

Google is redesigning an intuitive and easier-to-use sharing dialog for its web applications.

Google is building a new design for the shared dialog interface of Drive, Docs, Sheets, Slides and Forms applications based on the web. The new sharing interface is expected to be simpler, more separate and more user-friendly when sharing content as well as easier to copy the link. Google announced that this new design will be applied to all its customers.
