

Google released Chrome browser version 15

Google has released a version of Chrome 15 web browser, with improvements in security and fixing previous bugs, as well as redesign Chrome tab pages and Chrome Web Store section.

Google has released a version of Chrome 15 web browser, with improvements in security and fixing previous bugs, as well as redesigning Chrome's tab pages and the Chrome Web Store section .

Now when users open a new tab, they can quickly switch between web apps and frequently visited pages by clicking on the arrows on either side.

In addition, users can easily drag and drop applications to rearrange the order, or drag the application icon to the lower right corner to remove.

Meanwhile, the Chrome Web Store section has been redesigned to help users easily explore applications and extensions.

In addition, reviews on the Chrome Web Store will be linked to the Google+ account of the reviewer.

You finished reading the article "Google released Chrome browser version 15" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.