

Google Search is integrated with a quick job search feature in Vietnam

From April 11, Google began integrating the job support suggestion feature for Vietnamese users directly on Google Search (Google Search).

From April 11, Google began integrating the job recommendation feature for users in Vietnam directly on Google Search (Google Search).

When users perform job search keywords in any field in Vietnam, from sales to engineers, the search results will display a special section that can be expanded into an experience. more intensive. When clicking on any job, you will be able to access a neatly displayed page about that job opportunity, from job description, address, recruitment form to transport from home. work place. If you are interested in this job, you can click on a button to get direct access to the application page of the recruitment platform you want.

The quick job search feature on Google Search helps synthesize and categorize recruitment sites of companies and corporations. This makes it easy for users to find information about job opportunities from all famous job sites, providing a whole new experience for anyone looking for a job in Vietnam.

The job search feature on Google now can bring thousands of recruitment information from more than 100 websites on the Internet. The feature supports Vietnamese in all Google search applications, every device from Android, iOS to mobile browsers and computers.

You finished reading the article "Google Search is integrated with a quick job search feature in Vietnam" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---