Scientists were amazed to find the mysterious energy beam emanating from the Sun pyramid in the world's largest pyramid valley in Bosnia.

Scientists were amazed to find the mysterious energy beam emanating from the Sun pyramid in the world's largest pyramid valley in Bosnia.

Supposedly the largest pyramid in the world so far, the Sun pyramid is 220 meters tall, higher than the Giza pyramid in Egypt. This is even the oldest pyramid on the planet with 12,000 years old.

The largest, oldest pyramid in the world.

The structure of the Sun pyramid is not surprising to the scientists. According to Italy's Politecnico di Torino Research Institute and the Institute of Materials of Bosnia-Herzegovina, this pyramid is constructed of super high-grade concrete materials. The bottom of the pyramid slopes 45 degrees, the north face is in the middle of the north direction, less than a degree of tolerance. Inside the pyramid are the corridors.

In 2010, Dr. Slobodan Mizdrak, a Croatian physicist and his research team discovered a beam of light with a radius of 4.5m launched from the top of the Sun pyramid. When conducting the measurements, they found that the source of energy from the Sun pyramid lies at a depth of 2,440m, producing an electric current of more than 10 KW, an intensity of 1.9V, with continuous properties.

In particular, the greater the energy intensity of the beam moving up and away from the pyramid. This is not true of the laws of physics on Earth. Scientists believe that this may be the first evidence of non-hertz technology (a wave mentioned by Nikola Tesla) on Earth.

In 2011, Italian and Finnish experts measured abnormal ultrasound frequencies as high as 28.3000 kHz and existed in 93333 Hz blocks on the top of the pyramid.

Researchers believe that there is a connection between the astronomical system between the Moon and Sun pyramids . Because during the summer, before the soul dropped to the shadowed Pyramid, the moon covered the Moon pyramid. But they can not determine what that relationship is?
