

Guide to creating QQ accounts to play Chinese online games

For gamers, it is known that playing online games in China will require QQ social networking accounts. Most online game games are connected to QQ accounts.

As one of the second largest social networks in China, QQ is a place to text, listen to music, voice chat and especially play online games. Many gamers know that most terrible games in China have a function of linking through QQ. This is quite similar to how we play Sky garden to register an account with Zing ID. In this article, Network Administrator will guide you step by step to set up a QQ account so you can play online games in China.

Instructions for registering QQ accounts

Step 1: Access the QQ account registration page at this link, then write your account information fully. Include the name of the email you are using (it is best to use Gmail), the nickname is the nickname you set for your account and finally the QQ account password.
