

Guide to lock and unlock Android screen with virtual assistant Google Assistant

Nothing is impossible with the virtual assistant Google Assistant, from checking traffic to playing music, videos and more. Today, TipsMake.com will introduce you to read how to use this tool to lock and unlock your Android phone.

Nothing is impossible with the virtual assistant Google Assistant, from checking traffic to playing music, videos and more. Today, TipsMake.com will introduce you to read how to use this tool to lock and unlock your Android phone.

Own Google Assistant

If you don't have a virtual assistant Google Assistant on your phone, you can own it by joining the Google and Google Play Services Beta program. You can see the video below for more details:

">

Or you can read the article below for more information:

1. How to install virtual assistant Google Assistant on Android 6.0 Marshmallow device and higher

Instructions for unlocking phones using Google Assistant

Once you have owned the Google Assistant on your phone, you can unlock your phone, just say "OK Google". This launches the Google Assistant application and you can interact with your phone: launch applications, check email, call and do any other work in the Google Assistant's capabilities .

Note : For some Android devices, using Google Assistant may result in minor errors and sometimes you may be prompted to enter your PIN or password to unlock the phone first.

Phone lock guide using Google Assistant

Phone lock seems a bit more complicated because this function is not built into the original Google Assistant settings.

First, you will need to install an additional application that can lock your phone. You can use one of the following applications:

1. Off +
2. Screen Off
3. Lock Screen

After installing the application, open Google Assistant and click the drawer icon.

Click the 3 dots icon along the top right of the screen and go to Settings> Shortcuts .

On the Shortcut tab, click on the blue + button .

Enter a new shortcut with the information below:

1. When I say Ok Google: Phone lock
2. Google Assistant Should by: Open Screen Off

Finally, click Save.

">

You can change this voice command to any sentence you want. You can also replace the Screen Off application with another application.

Do you want to use speech to lock or unlock your phone screen? If yes, follow the steps above!

You finished reading the article "Guide to lock and unlock Android screen with virtual assistant Google Assistant" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.