Gun types for FPS Rules Of Survival mode

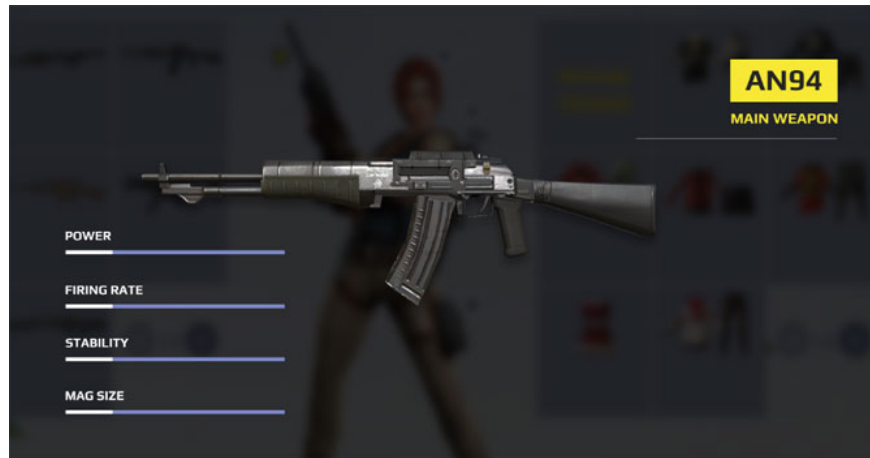

1. MP7 gun

MP7 does not recoil when firing, many bullets and is suitable for close distance shooting. When attacking, wait for the enemy to move closer to you then shoot.

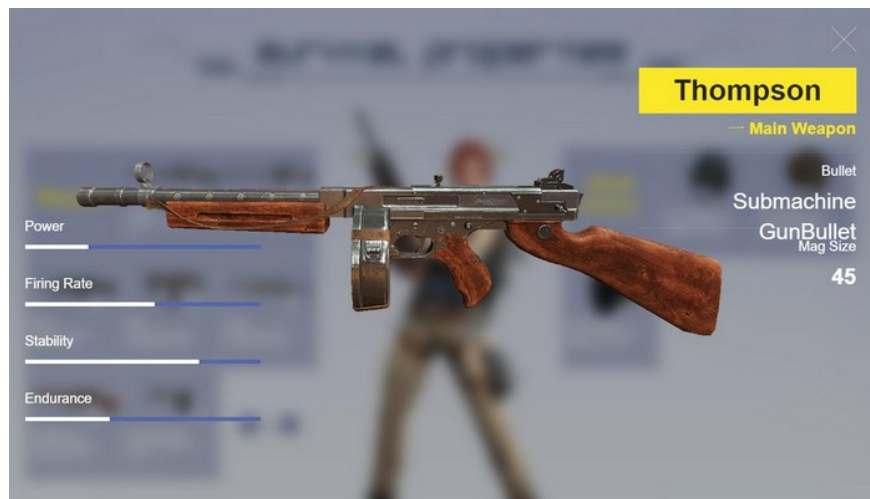

2. AN94 gun

AN94 is classified into a row with relative stability, with a shot mode of 3 shots at a time, so it is suitable for continuous shooting at close range. Especially when using AN94 in first-person shooting mode, this gun is even more effective.

3. Thompson gun

Leading the line of SMG guns, Thompson owns a large number of bullets with extra cartridges of up to 60 capsules, which has the same damage power as M4A1. With the first-person shot mode, Thompson will quickly knock out about 4 enemy enemies, with a fast firing speed, without snatching when shooting.

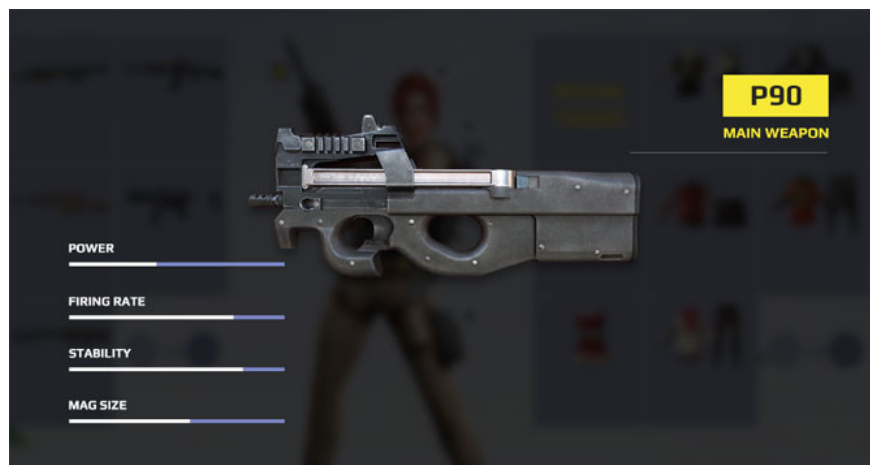

4. ACR password

ARC is a gun with fast discharge speed, stability when shooting as well as great damage. The combat ability of ARC is very rich, used in every case, every position, every location. Even when shooting at first or third view, ACR will not disappoint you.

5. P90 password

Speaking of P90, it is impossible to ignore large bullets in the Rules Of Survival. With first-person shooting mode, gamers can freely shoot at close range. The P90's secondary ammunition box is enough for the player to destroy a group of 4 people hiding in the house.

Of course, the guns in the Rules Of Survival give players unique advantages, but when playing with the first-person view mode, you should choose the guns that are more suitable for this mode. Thus, the guns will promote their power in destroying opponents.
