

How many countries and territories are there in the world today?

Ideas are easy but not everyone can answer this question: How many countries does the world have today?

A country is a subject of complete, sovereign international law that must meet the following criteria: defined territory, government and the ability to participate in international relations, stable population. . This has been stipulated in Article 1 of the Montevideo Convention on the rights and obligations of States signed in Montevideo, Uruguay on December 26, 1933.

1. Saudi Arabia built a $ 500 billion super city spread across three countries, 33 times larger than New York
2. The strange paradox 6 countries in the world
3. The whole Earth seems to shrink in this beautiful country

In the world today, there are a number of countries that claim to be independent but one is recognized but the government does not have enough powers or is not internationally recognized as a political entity.

Currently there are 204 countries in the world.

If these countries are included, there are 204 countries in the world today. Including:

193 countries are recognized as official members of the United Nations.

2 countries are observers at the United Nations.

1. Vatican City.
2. Palestine - The Palestinian state is not recognized by many other countries in the world.

2 countries are recognized and independent in many countries.

1. Taiwan - There are 19 UN member states and the Vatican City still maintaining formal relations.
2. Kosovo - 111 of 193 United Nations members, 24 of 28 NATO members, 23 of 28 members of the European Union, 35 of 61 members of the Islamic Cooperation organization recognize it.

A country that is not independent in practice but is recognized by many countries as the Western Sahara. African Union and at least 41 countries recognize this as sovereign territory but are occupied.

6 countries declared independence but were not recognized.

1. Abkhazia - Only Russia, Nauru, Tuvalu, Nicaragua, Venezuela, Vanuatu recognized.
2. Northern Cyprus - Only Turkey recognized.
3. South Ossetia - Only Russia, Nauru, Nicaragua, Venezuela recognized.
4. Somaliland, Transnistria and Nagorno - Karabakh - No other country or international organization has recognized it yet.

You finished reading the article "How many countries and territories are there in the world today?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.