

How to add weather information to the lock screen on Windows 10 and 11

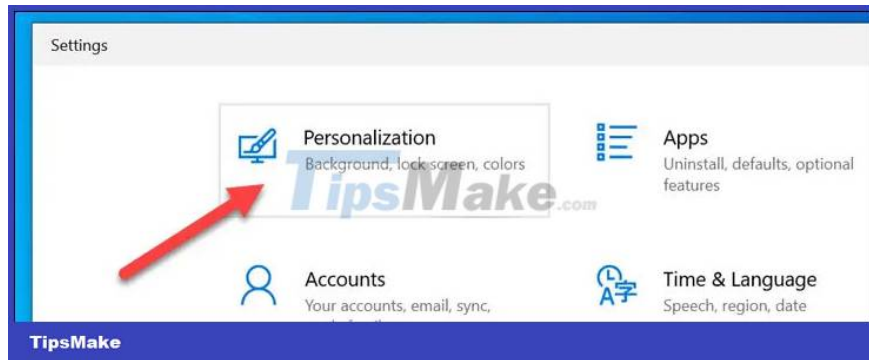

Windows 10 and Windows 11 allow users to display real-time weather information right on the lock screen for easy monitoring.

Just like on phones, smartwatches or tablets, Windows 10 and Windows 11 allow users to display real-time weather information right on the lock screen for easy monitoring. Learn how to do it right below.

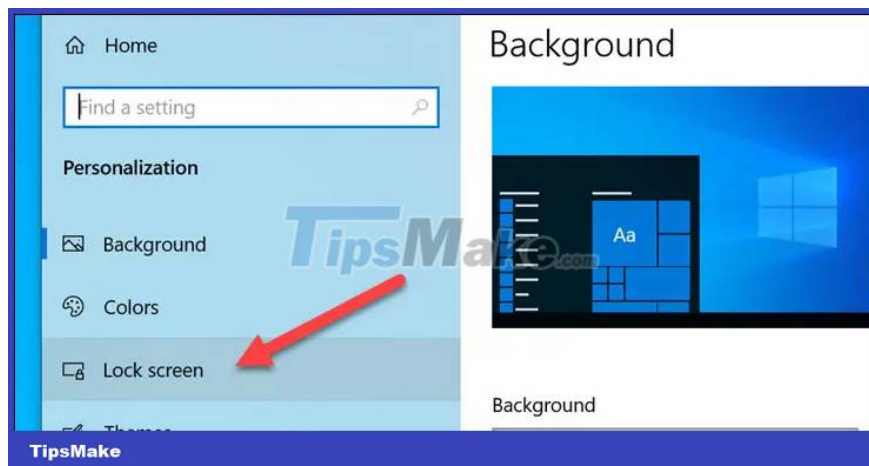

Add weather to the lock screen on Windows 10

To add weather information to the Windows 10 lock screen, simply follow these steps.

First, open the Settings app on your Windows 10 PC and click on the 'Personalization' section.

Next, select the 'Lock Screen' section.

Make sure the ' Background ' drop-down menu is set to ' Windows Spotlight '.

Now select the app icon below the text: ' Choose one app to show detailed status on the lock screen '.

Select ' Weather ' from the list of available applications.

It's all as simple as that! Weather information will be displayed below the clock and date on the lock screen.

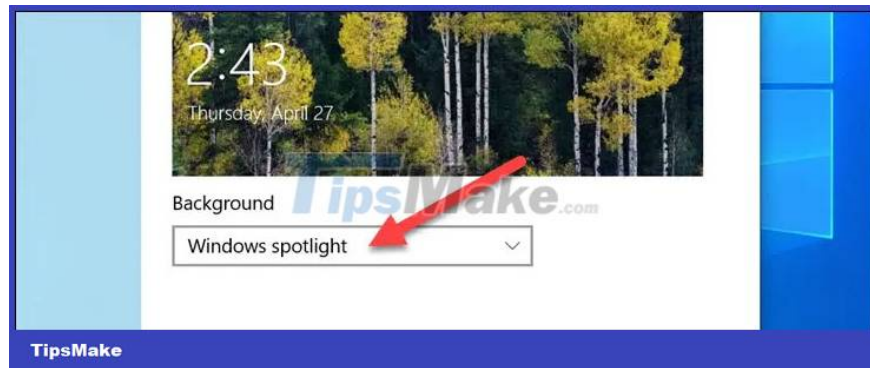

Add weather to the lock screen on Windows 11

To add weather information to the Windows 10 lock screen, follow these steps:

First, open the Settings app on your Windows 11 PC and click on the ' Personalization ' item.

Next, select the ' Lock Screen ' section.

Find the item ' Lock Screen Status ' and select ' Weather ' from the drop-down menu. This feature will not be available if you do not have the MSN Weather app installed.

Done! Weather information will appear centered at the bottom of the lock screen.

Hope you are succesful.

You finished reading the article "How to add weather information to the lock screen on Windows 10 and 11" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.