

How to block ads in WhatsApp status

WhatsApp has added ads in status which affects user experience. Here is a guide to block ads in WhatsApp status.

WhatsApp has recently added ads in the status updates and home page of the app, which is affecting the user experience. Of course, you cannot disable ads in WhatsApp status from the default settings of the app, but you can use some tools to block ads in WhatsApp status. Here is a guide to block ads in WhatsApp status.

Block ads in WhatsApp status via AdGuard VPN

AdGuard VPN app uses private DNS to filter all ads on your phone, including WhatsApp.

Step 1:

First, download the AdGuard application for your phone using the link below.

1. Download AdGuard for iOS

Note that with AdGuard Android you need to download it from the AdGuard homepage because the version on the App Store does not support ad filtering.

1. Download AdGuard Android

AdGuard for Android

AdGuard for Android is a perfect solution for Android devices. Unlike most other ad blockers, AdGuard doesn't require root access and provides a wide range of app management options.

After installing the application, you grant permission to set up VPN on your phone and you're done.

When the VPN icon appears in your phone's notification area, the AdGuard app has been successfully enabled.

AdGuard will start blocking all ads on WhatsApp and other apps on your phone.

Use WhatsApp on PC

WhatsApp currently only has ads for the mobile version of the app. If you don't want to install a VPN app, you can use the desktop version of WhatsApp via the installer app or the web version of WhatsApp.
