Flip your device face down to silence it and lock your screen.
Because of a bug you need to open Tasker once before importing, go to preferences and disable beginner mode, then back out of Tasker, and then import, or else Tasker will crash when importing.
Important Note: On the current public version of Tasker, importing this project will not ask for the needed permissions as show in the video. You can turn on the permissions manually if needed, or install the beta so that it asks for the permissions correctly.
