2. How to change the Dark Mode Skype interface on PC

Video tutorial turns on dark background on Skype PC

Currently the Skype and Skype software interfaces in the web are the same, so users do the same in the section below.

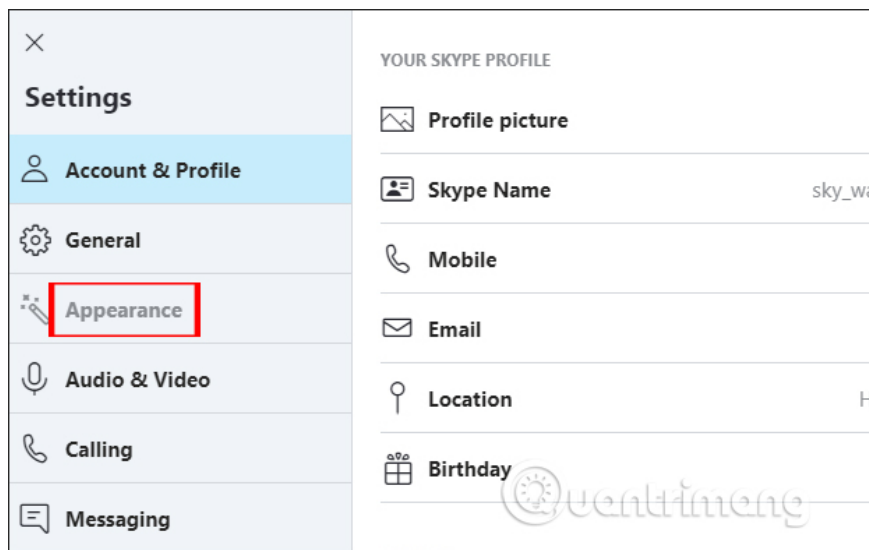

Step 1:

In the Skype account interface, we click on the 3 dot sign icon next to the account name and select Settings (Settings).

Step 2:

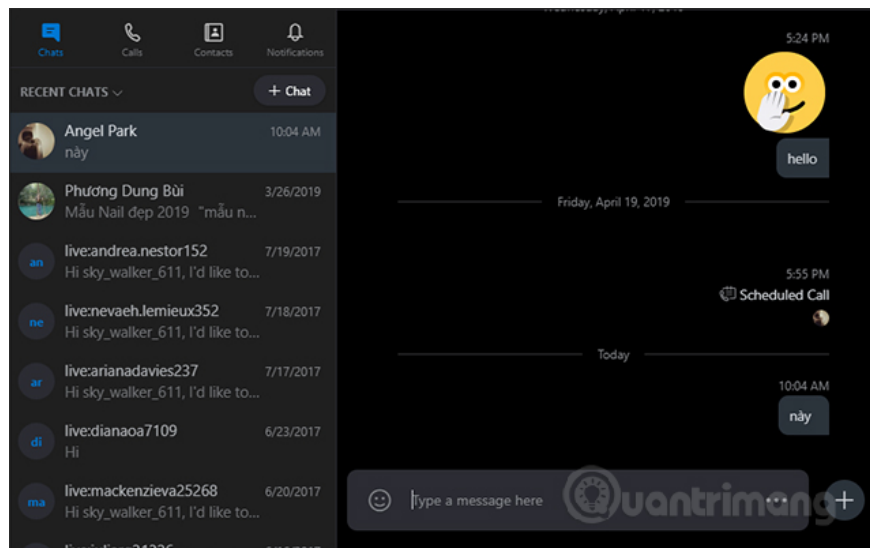

Display Setting interface. Here we click on the Appearance tab in the corner of the screen.

Looking at the content next, we will see options to change the display interface for Skype. In the Modes section, select Dark to use the dark background in Skype.

The Skype interface results immediately switch to a black background with white text as shown.

If you opt into High contrast dark mode, the text on Skype is brighter.

Then the chat content will turn into a white frame as shown below.

With just a few simple steps to change the settings on Skype, the black interface should be applied to the interface. If the interface is blinding, users should turn off high contrast mode.

I wish you all success!
