1. Rename the Facebook Fanpage page

Step 1:

First of all, you log in to the Facebook Fanpage that is managing as Admin. Then look at the list of options on the left, select About.

Step 2:

In the Introduction section next to the General section, you will see the Facebook Fanpage User Name and Name. First of all at Name click on the Edit button to change the name for Fanpage.

Facebook will display the current page name and the new page name so that the user can enter a new name to change. After entering the new name, click Continue.

Step 3:

We will see Facebook give the previous name of the page and the new name is now changed. Click Request to change the Fanpage name is done.

2. Change Facebook Fanpage Facebook address

User page name is the name that appears on the URL behind the facebook.com cluster. This username cannot be identical to another page name and can be searched through this Fanpage username.

Step 1:

Also at the Introduction section of the Username section, you also click the Edit button to proceed to change the username.

Step 2:

Switch to the Create user interface, enter the username you want to change for Fanpage to the Username bar. User name must not exceed 50 characters. When there are blue traces as shown, that means the username is available. Click Create username.

Finally, users will receive a notification that changing the name for Fanpage was successful. Click OK to exit the interface.

So you have finished changing the page name and user name for Facebook Fanpage. Changing the name for Fanpage should be avoided many times, just rename it when necessary because it will reduce the number of searchers if they are familiar with the previous Facebook page name.
