

How to Clear Address Bar

Internet privacy involves more than just keeping the data you transmit safe. You may also prefer that others not have evidence of the websites that you visit. This is especially true for those who share a household computer or who must use...

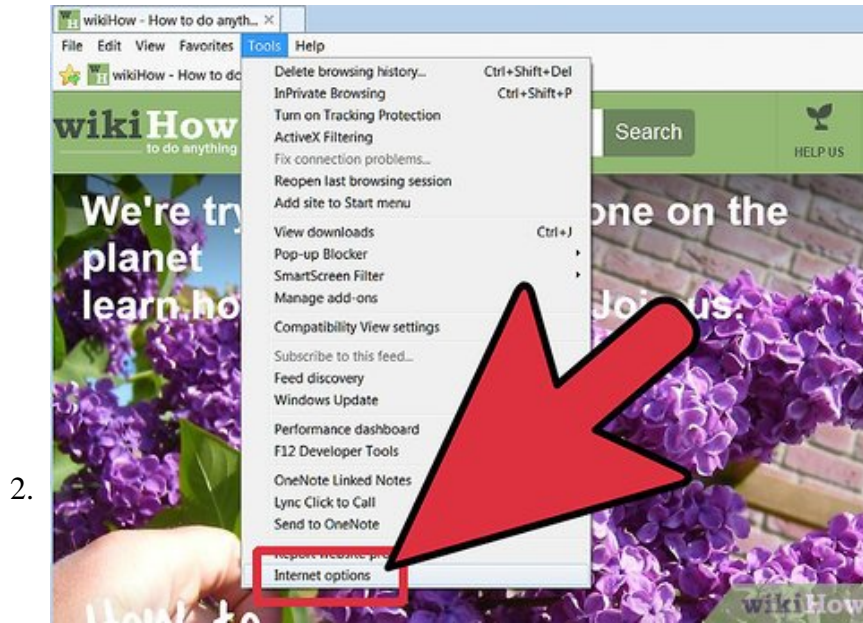

Method 1 of 4:

Internet Explorer

1.

Launch Internet Explorer.

Click "Tools," and then click "Internet Options."

3. Picture 3 of How to Clear Address Bar

Check the "Delete browsing history on exit" button,

1. then click the Delete button under the Browsing History subheading to clear the browser history.
2. The Delete Browsing History window will open. For the best security, make sure that all options are checked, including "Form data," "Passwords" and "InPrivate Filtering data." Click the Delete button and wait for the process to complete.

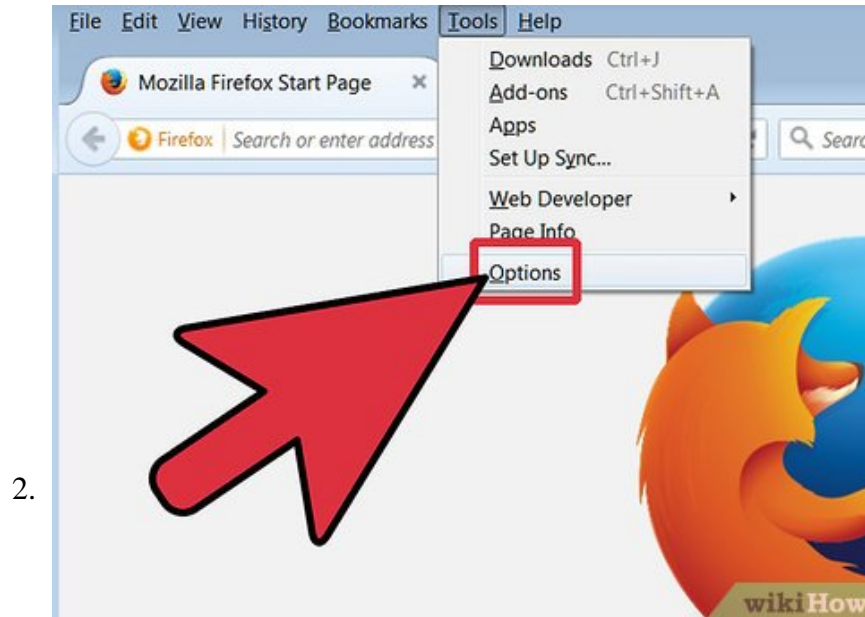

Close the Internet Options window by clicking Apply and then the OK buttons.

Method 2 of 4:

Firefox

1. Picture 5 of How to Clear Address Bar

Open the Firefox browser

Access the Options window by clicking "Tools" on the main menu, then choosing "Options."

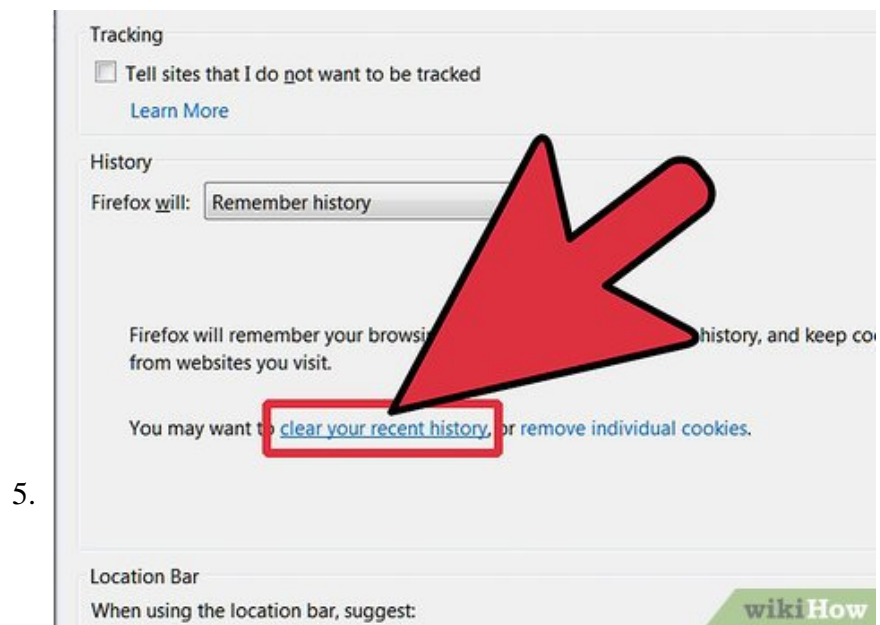

Select the Privacy tab in the Options window to clear the history.

1. Here you can establish privacy options for future use by selecting your preferred option under the History subheading.

Set the location bar to suggest "Nothing."

Click the linked phrase, "clear your recent history."

1. You can choose to delete your browsing history from only the most recent activity within the last hour or 2, the current day or everything.

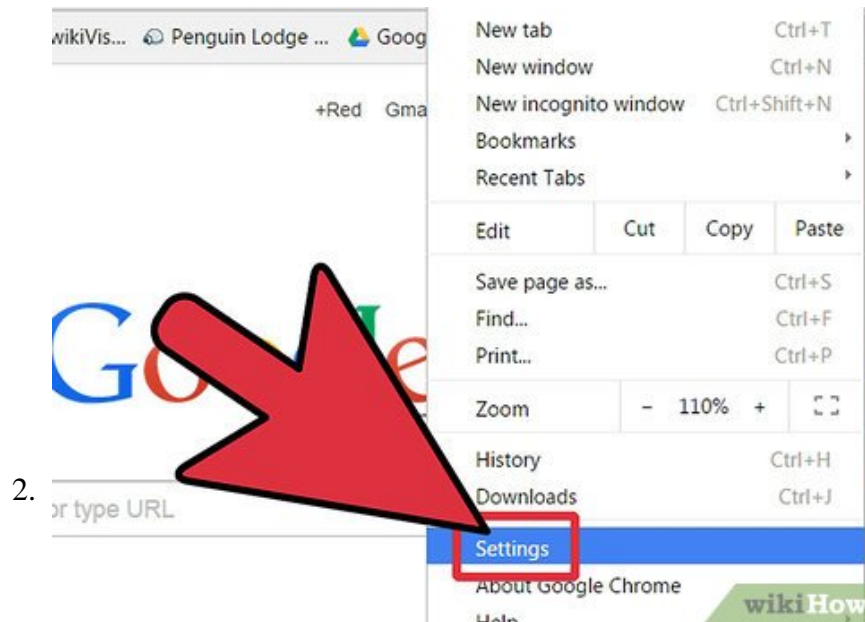

Method 3 of 4:

Chrome

Launch the Chrome browser.

Go to options at the upper right side of the browser then click on Settings.

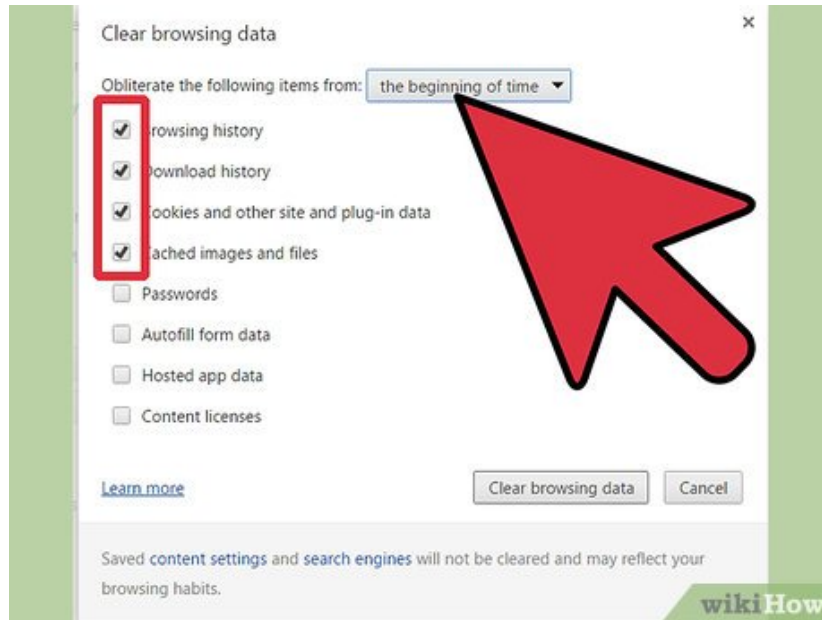

1. The Options menu will launch in a new tab in the same browser window where you can clear the history.

Under "Settings" from the option types, click "Advanced Settings". Then look for "Clear Browsing Data" under Privacy.

1. Set the period you want to clear the history from and select the data types you will be deleting. For the highest security, select all data types and clear "From the beginning of time."

4.

Finish the process by clicking the Clear Browsing Data button and then closing the Options tab.

Method 4 of 4:

Safari

1.

Use the dock area to launch the Safari browser.

Click "History" on the main toolbar, then click the Clear the History option at the bottom of the drop down menu.

You finished reading the article "How to Clear Address Bar" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.