

How to convert PowerPoint slides to Video

Turning PowerPoint presentation slides is a pretty cool and useful trick. When converted into a video, you can open your presentation anywhere without having to install PowerPoint, you can open it on a big screen TV to watch, open on a smartphone ... etc. The following article by TipsMake vn will guide you to do this.

Turning PowerPoint presentation slides is a pretty cool and useful trick. When converted into a video, you can open your presentation anywhere without having to install PowerPoint, you can open it on a big screen TV to watch, open on a smartphone . etc. The following article by TipsMake vn will guide you to do this.

Step 1: Open the slide and select File .

Step 2: Choose Export -> Create a Video .

Then select the resolution for the video and finally click Create video :

Step 3: The save file window appears, select where to save the file, give the video a name and click Save .

As the video creation process begins, you can track the progress at the bottom edge of the PowerPoint window:

And here is our slideshow video after completion:

Above is a guide to convert slide slideshows into videos, wish you success!

You finished reading the article "How to convert PowerPoint slides to Video" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.