

How to Create a Dance Moms Audio Swap

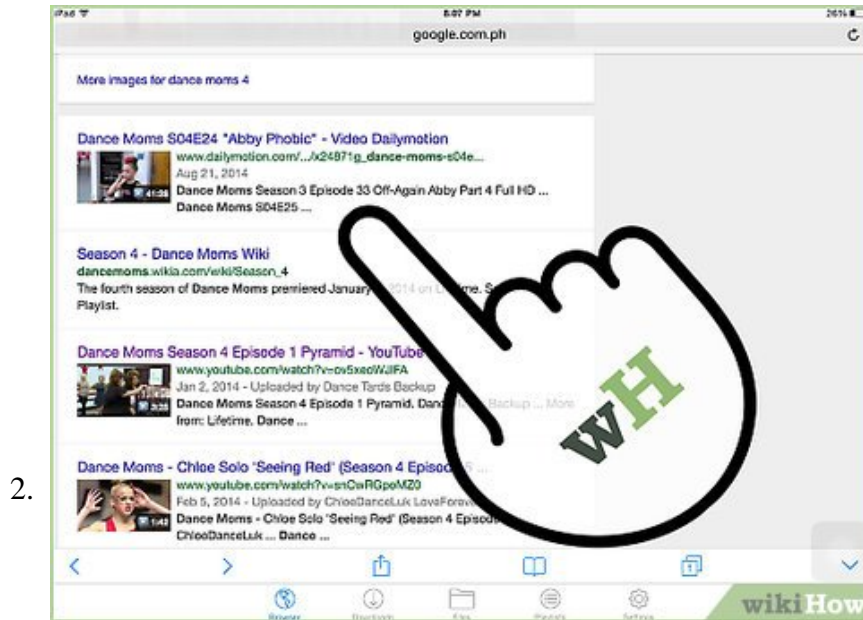

If you've ever seen one of the 'Dance Moms' performances, you'll already know that they dance to certain music that fits the performance. Do any search on YouTube for 'Dance Moms Audio Swap', and you'll come across a collection of videos...

Part 1 of 2:

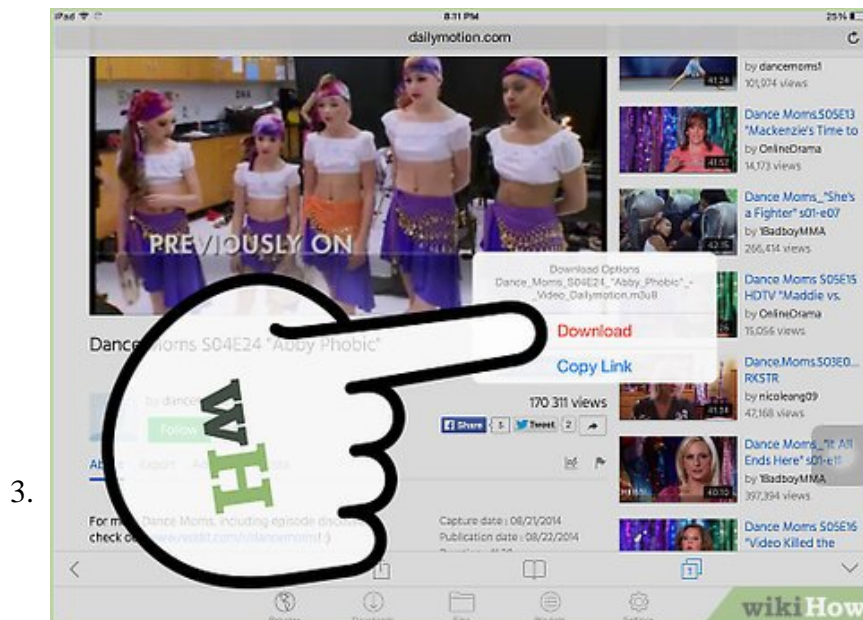

Preparation

Get the device(s) needed. This is a mobile method, so you will need an Apple device (or some device with iMovie on it). This includes: Mac (computers/laptops), iPhone, iPod and iPad.

Tap the video. Scroll up and tap and hold the URL of the video. A list menu should come up.

Tap "Download As" and tap the name bar to type. You can also just download the video without renaming it. You'll be able to see the video by the thumbnail, so it doesn't really matter what you name it.

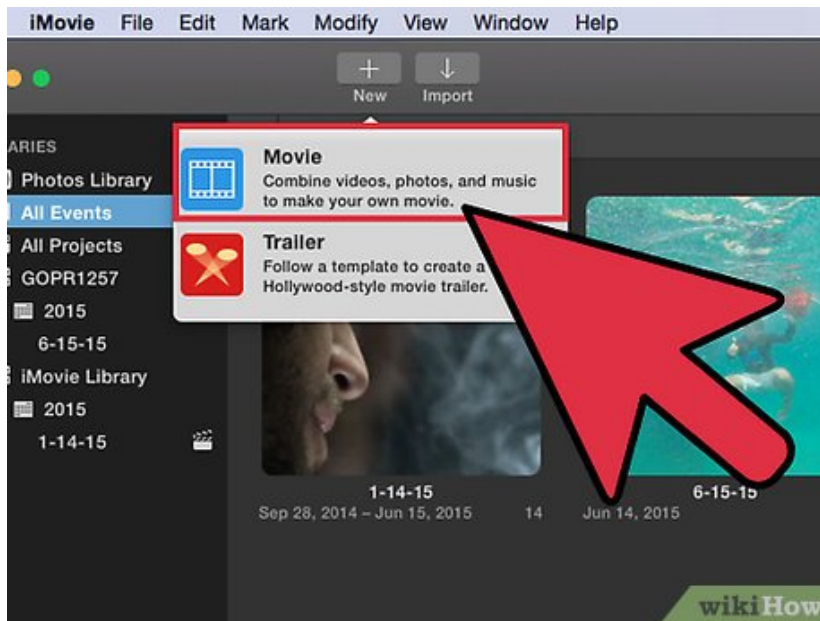

4.

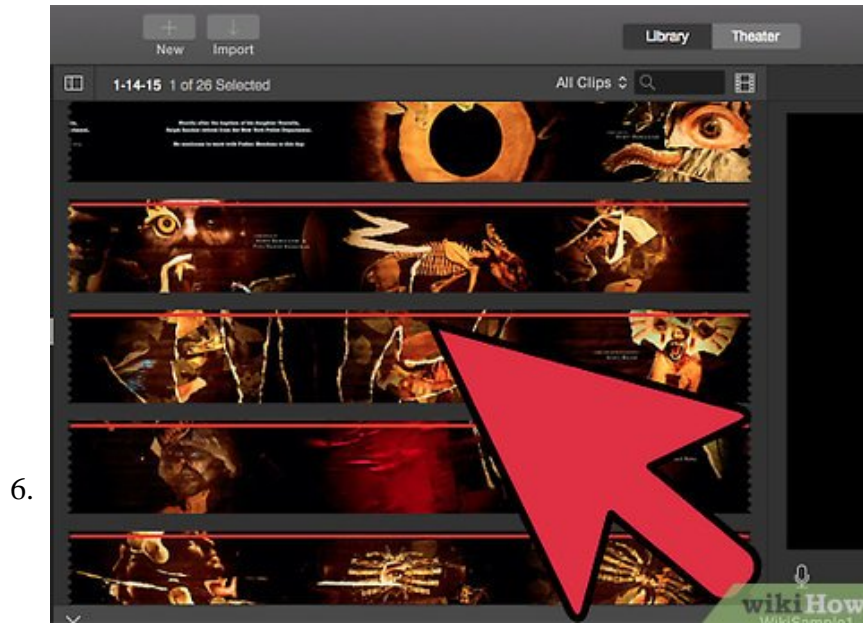

After downloading the video(s), go to "Videos" at the bottom of the application. Your videos will come up. Tap and hold the video you want to audio swap. Tap "Save to camera roll".

1. It can be easy to forget or maybe think you can skip this step, but it is essential, so don't overlook it.

5.

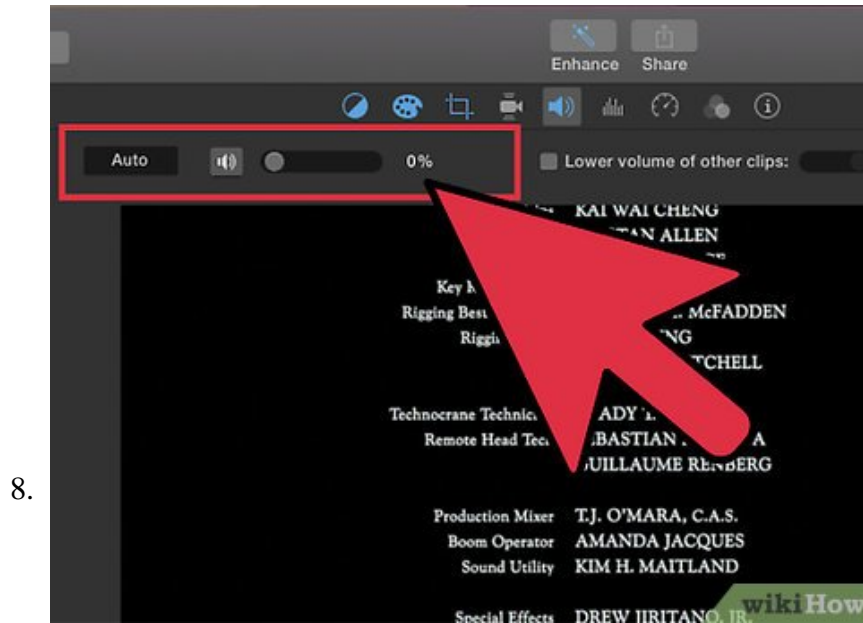

Open iMovie. Tap the create button ("+"). Tap "Movie". On the design "Simple", tap "Create".

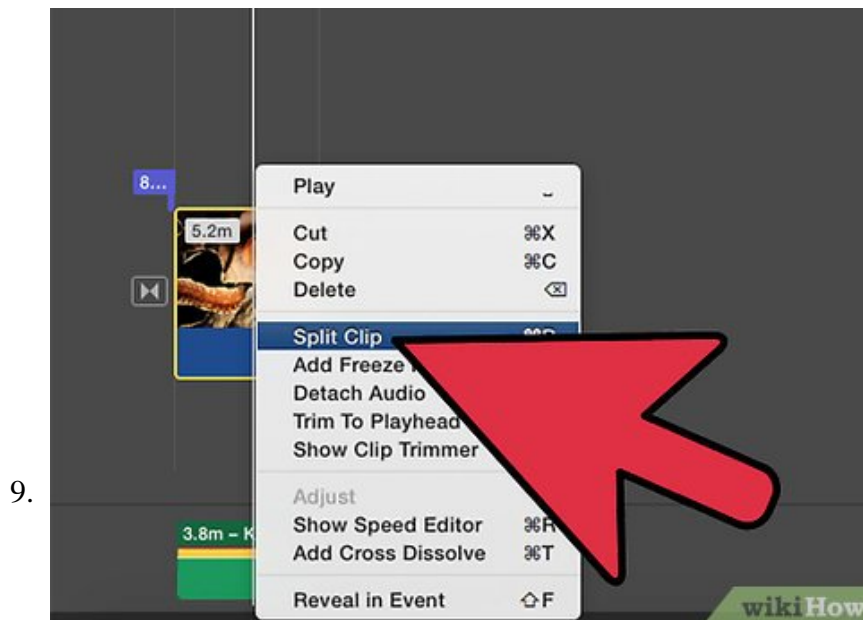

Tap the media icon in the top left of your work area. You should be on "Video" in the tabs at the bottom of the app. Tap "all" and choose the video that you downloaded. Tap an arrow that signifies "use".

Tap the tab "Audio" at the bottom. Choose your song. Choose the "use" arrow.

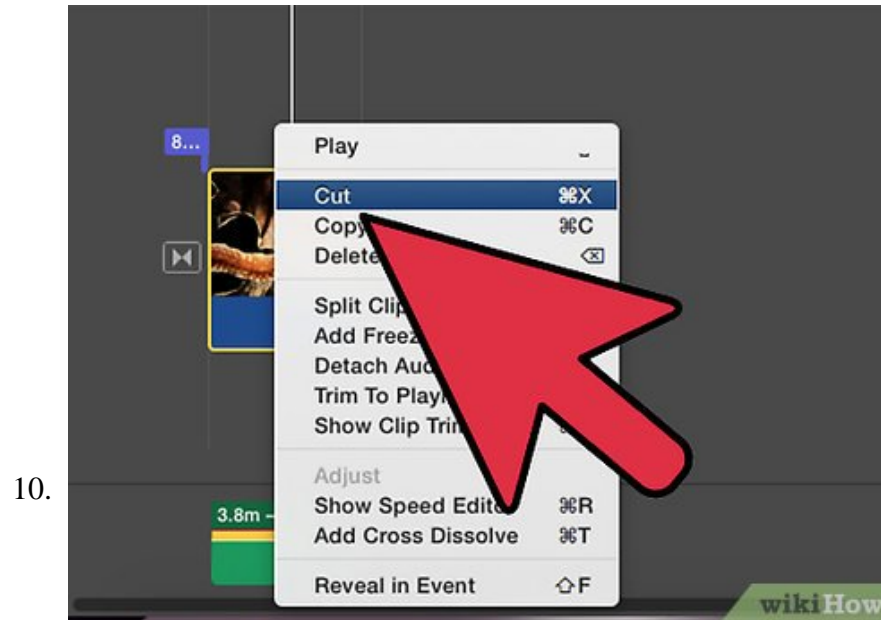

In your iMovie studio, tap the video. Choose the sound icon. Turn the sound to 0%.

Remove all parts of the video that are not dancing (the audience, judges, etc.). You can do this by:

1. 1. Putting the white work bar line where you are splitting the dance and part that should be taken out. This should be done twice unless the part that is being taken out is at the beginning or end.
2. 2. Tapping the part to be removed and tapping "Delete".

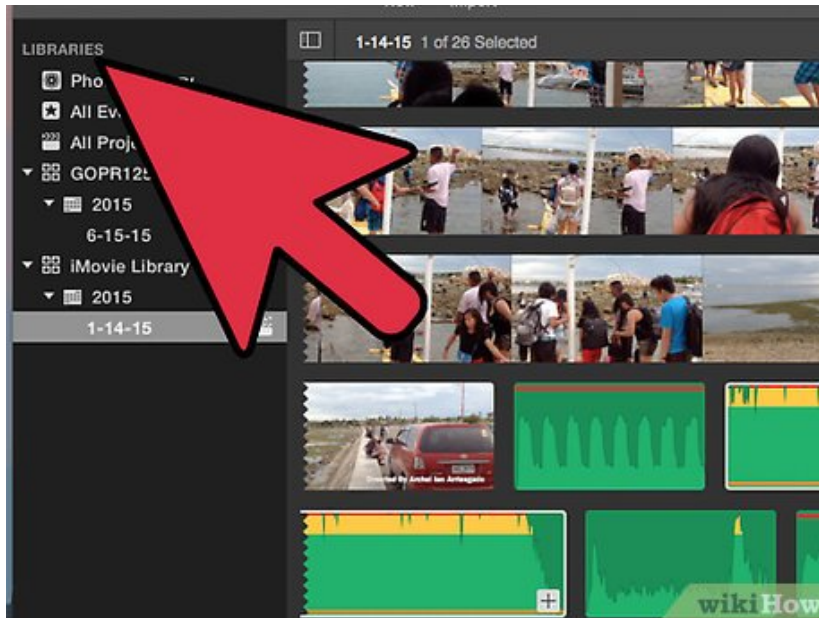

Choose parts of the dance to move around if you want to change the dance. This works the same as parts to be removed (Step 9). Separate parts of the dance. Duplicate them. Hold them in to move them to a different part of the dance.

1. Note: When you are moving a part, it can only be placed at separations or at the beginning or end.
2. If there is a part of the dance that you would like to remove, but the clip is too short, shorten the part attached to it.

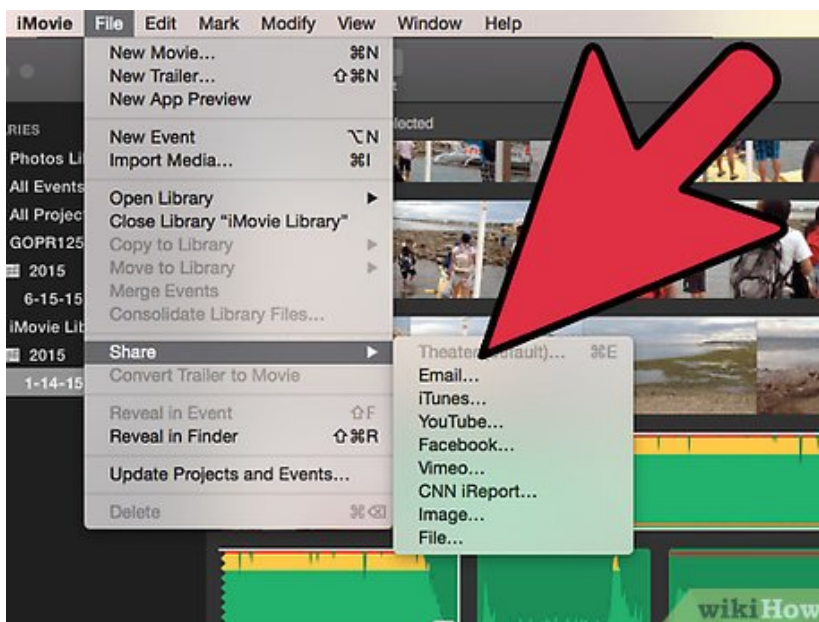

Fix your song, if it needs to be amended. For example, split it, duplicate it, shorten it, and so on.

12.

Tap the back arrow at the top left of your screen. Your work should already be saved. Name your work.

13.

Publish your work. This step is optional.

You finished reading the article "How to Create a Dance Moms Audio Swap" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.