Email, also known as email, was one of the first utility services on the Internet and is widely used to this day. Email crept into the daily life of anyone working with computers and the Internet.

Email is really common, but not everyone knows how to use or create an email account. Let's create a new email account with Thuthuatphanmem.vn!

1. Create a new email account using the Google Mail service

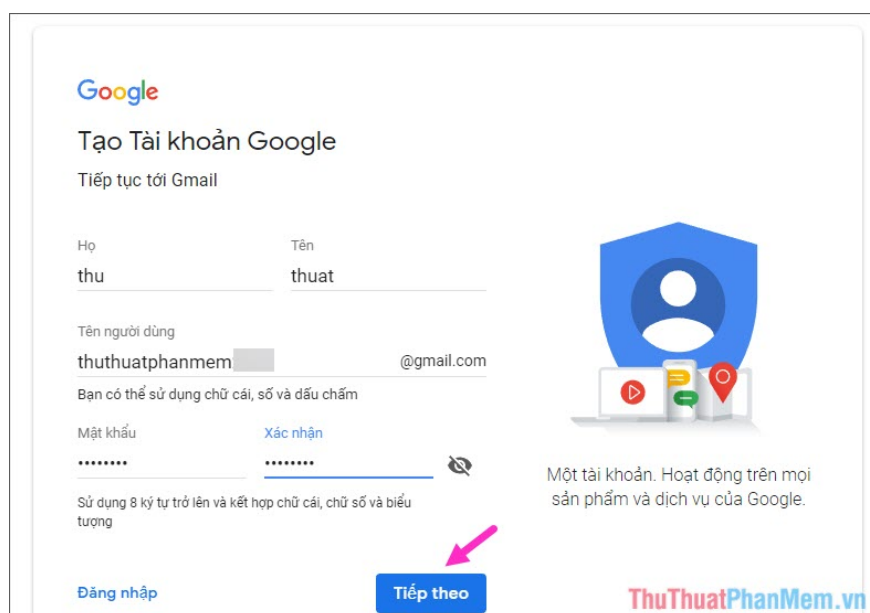

Step 1: Access Gmail at

<https://www.google.com/intl/en/gmail/about/#>

Then click on the Create Account button as shown above.

Step 2: At the interface of creating a Google account, you proceed to enter your Full Name . Username is the name to log into your Gmail account, you choose a name that does not overlap with others by adding numbers behind. Create a password for your account under Password and Confirmation . Enter the information, click Next .

Step 3: In this step, Google requires us to verify the account with a real phone number to avoid creating a virtual email. You enter your phone number and remember to select the correct country for Google to send you a verification code. Click Next to move on.

2. Create a new email for free on Outlook

Like Gmail, Outlook is Microsoft's free email service, which is trusted by many businesses and individuals because of its quickness, convenience, and support for many devices from computers to phones.

Step 1: Access Outlook at the address:

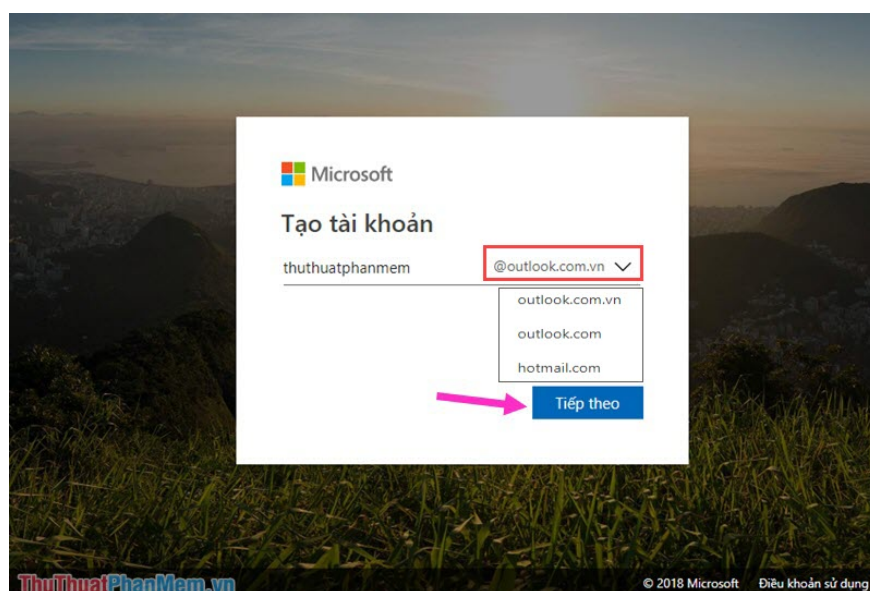

<https://outlook.live.com/owa/>

The interface will appear as shown below.

Click on Create free account as shown above.

Step 2: The Create account interface appears, you name your account. You can optionally change your email extension by clicking on the next to it (there are 3 options outlook.com.vn, outlook.com and hotmail.com). After making your selection, click Next.

Step 3: Create a new password for your account and then click Next

Step 4: Enter your Last Name (1) and First Name (2) and click Next .

Step 5: You enter some additional information that Microsoft requires such as Country / Region, Date of Birth. Then click Next to move on.

Step 6: Now Microsoft asks to authenticate you as the account creator or robot by asking us to re-enter the code that Microsoft created. You enter each word exactly in the code, if not visible, we can click New to create a new code. Enter finished, click Next to create a new account.

Step 7: After completing the above steps, the message screen appears as shown below as you have successfully created Outlook Email. In this step, you set up some information such as time zone, region . and you're done.

After setting up the final steps, you can send and receive emails.
