

How to create a private room with friends Among Us

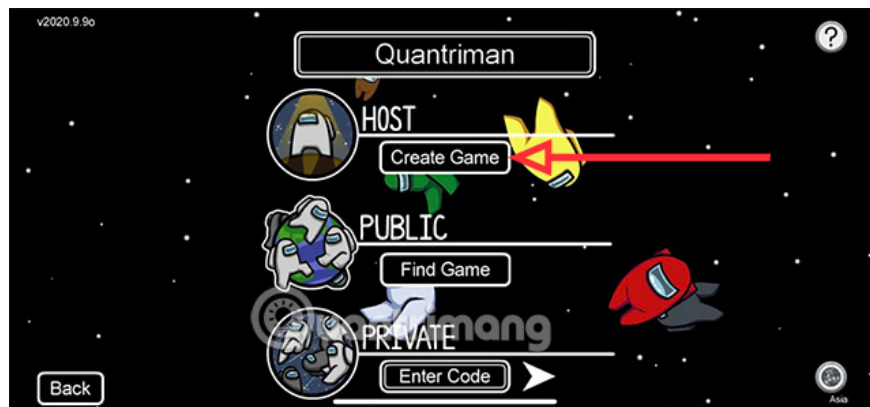

To create a private room Among Us to play with your friends, please follow the instructions in this article.

Among Us is really fun playing with your friends, or at least you have to play with a room that speaks your language. If not, the justification with the remaining characters in the room is difficult because Among Us is a game that requires all players to communicate and interact with each other.

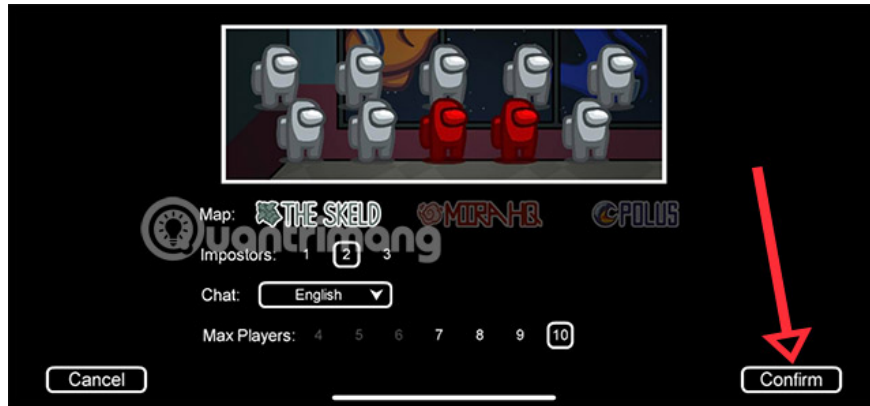

So, you need to tell everyone what you have met and what you are doing when the whole room is meeting and preparing to "kick" someone off the map. For rooms in a foreign country, you need to be able to communicate in English. Or create your own room and play with your friends. Here is how to create a private room Among Us to play with friends, you can also do the same with version Among Us PC.

How to create a private room to play with friends Among Us

Step 1: In the main interface, click Online> choose Create Game.

Step 2: Select the number of players, the number of Impostors, select the map and click Confirm to start creating a room.

When entering a room, if it is a private room below, and if the player does not have the other VJDPWQ code to enter, they will not be able to enter your room.

Please share that code with your friends and have them enter the Private section below. Then click on the arrow icon right next to enter the game.

If you don't want it to be a private room, click the Private button to make it Public. In this form anyone can access your room.

So that you can create your own room to play with your friends in Among Us already. If you do not invite enough of your friends, you can turn on Public room mode to invite more players when you have enough friends.
