

How to create bookmarks on Microsoft Edge browser

The bookmark tool on the Microsoft Edge browser will help you save your favorite websites, and we can quickly access them from that list.

Bookmark tools on browsers have become familiar to users. With your favorite websites, we can save them and access them more quickly. Besides, users can create different bookmark lists, divided into groups on the browser. If you don't know how to create a bookmark on Microsoft Edge browser, the following article will guide you.

Step 1:

We open the Microsoft Edge browser and proceed to enable bookmark mode on the Edge browser address bar. At the interface of the browser click on the 3 dots icon and select Settings .

Step 2:

In the list of installation options on the browser, scroll down under Favorite bar and activate Show the favorites bar mode , to display the bookmark bar.

Step 3:

Now you can access any website you want to save to your Favorites list. Click on the star icon on the interface next to the website address to save the website again.

Step 4:

The browser will then bring up a dialog to save the web page. Users can name the website you want to save, and save them at Favorites bar. Finally click Add to save.

Or if you want, you can click Create new folder to create a folder to save your favorite website right in your browser. Create a new name for the folder in the Folder name and also click Add to save it.

So we created the bookmark on Microsoft Edge. In the picture below, I have just created a folder to save bookmarks and saved individual website links in the browser. For sites that want to save later, you can save to the previously created folder.

Creating bookmarks on Microsoft Edge browser will help you bookmark your favorite websites, so you can access them faster without having to search again. In addition, users can choose to save the website individually or create a folder to save the website on Microsoft Edge.

I wish you all success!
