Instructions to create fake location on Zalo

As mentioned above, when conducting a search around you can only see people around you because Zalo uses GPS navigation (global positioning service) to identify where you are. Therefore, we need a tool to turn your actual location into another location - even anywhere in Vietnam or the world.

Fake GPS Location - Hola is a specialized application for Fake (fake, simulate) your current location. This tool allows you to choose any area you want, for example, you are in Hanoi that can easily transform into Danang.

Step 1:

Download and install Fake GPS Location - Hola application to your device by clicking on the link below.

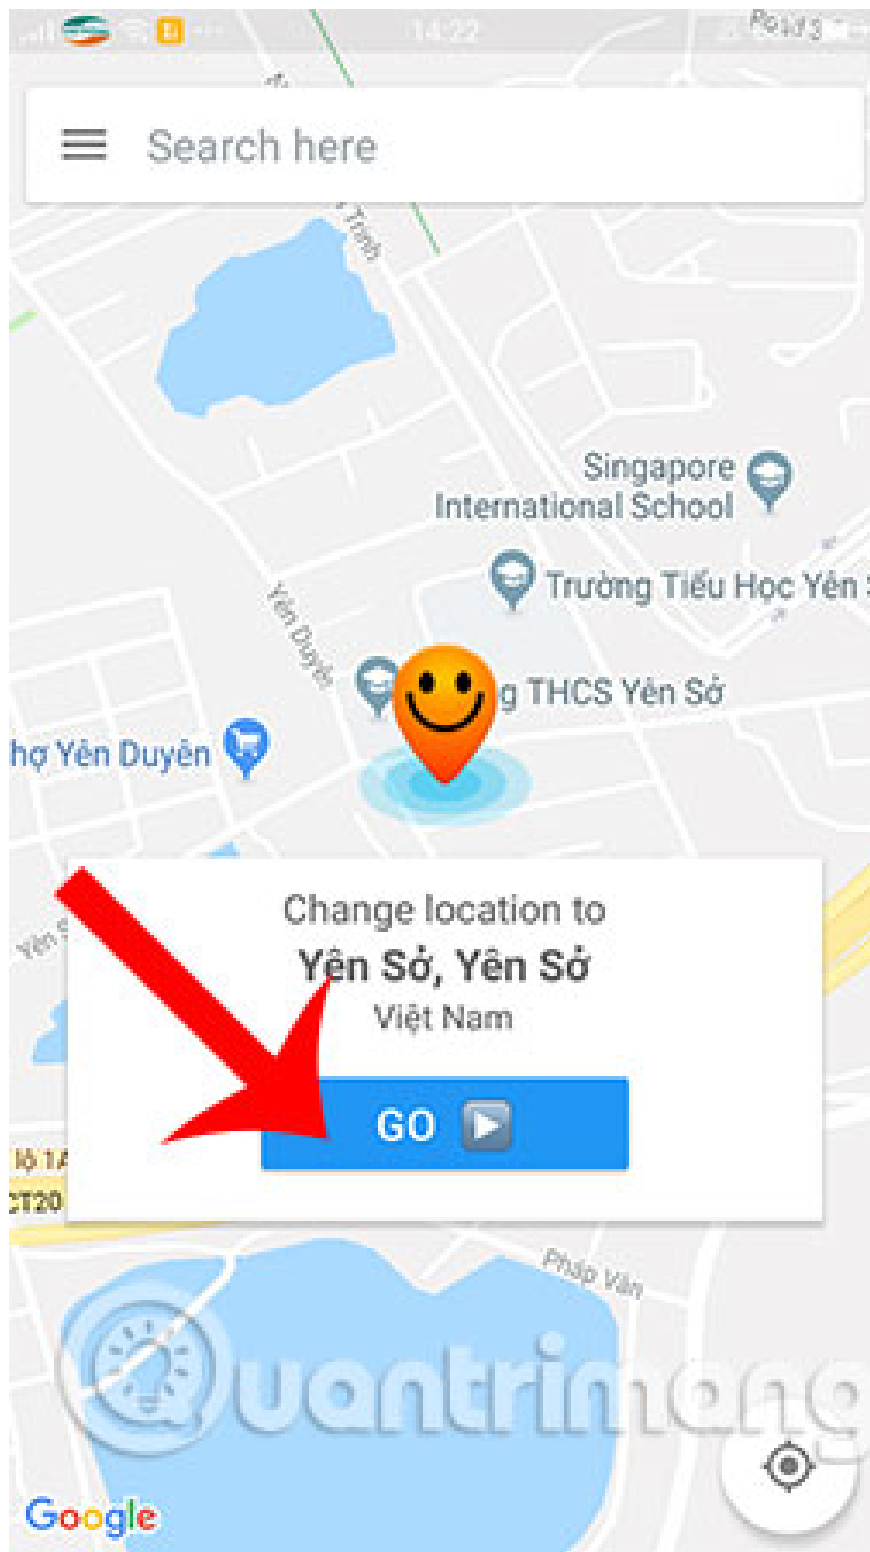

1. Download Zalo for PC
2. Download Fake GPS Location - Hola for Android

Step 2:

After installation is complete, you start the application and access its main working interface. Here, you will see a map like Google Maps but there is a location icon that shows the exact blink of an eye with where you are.

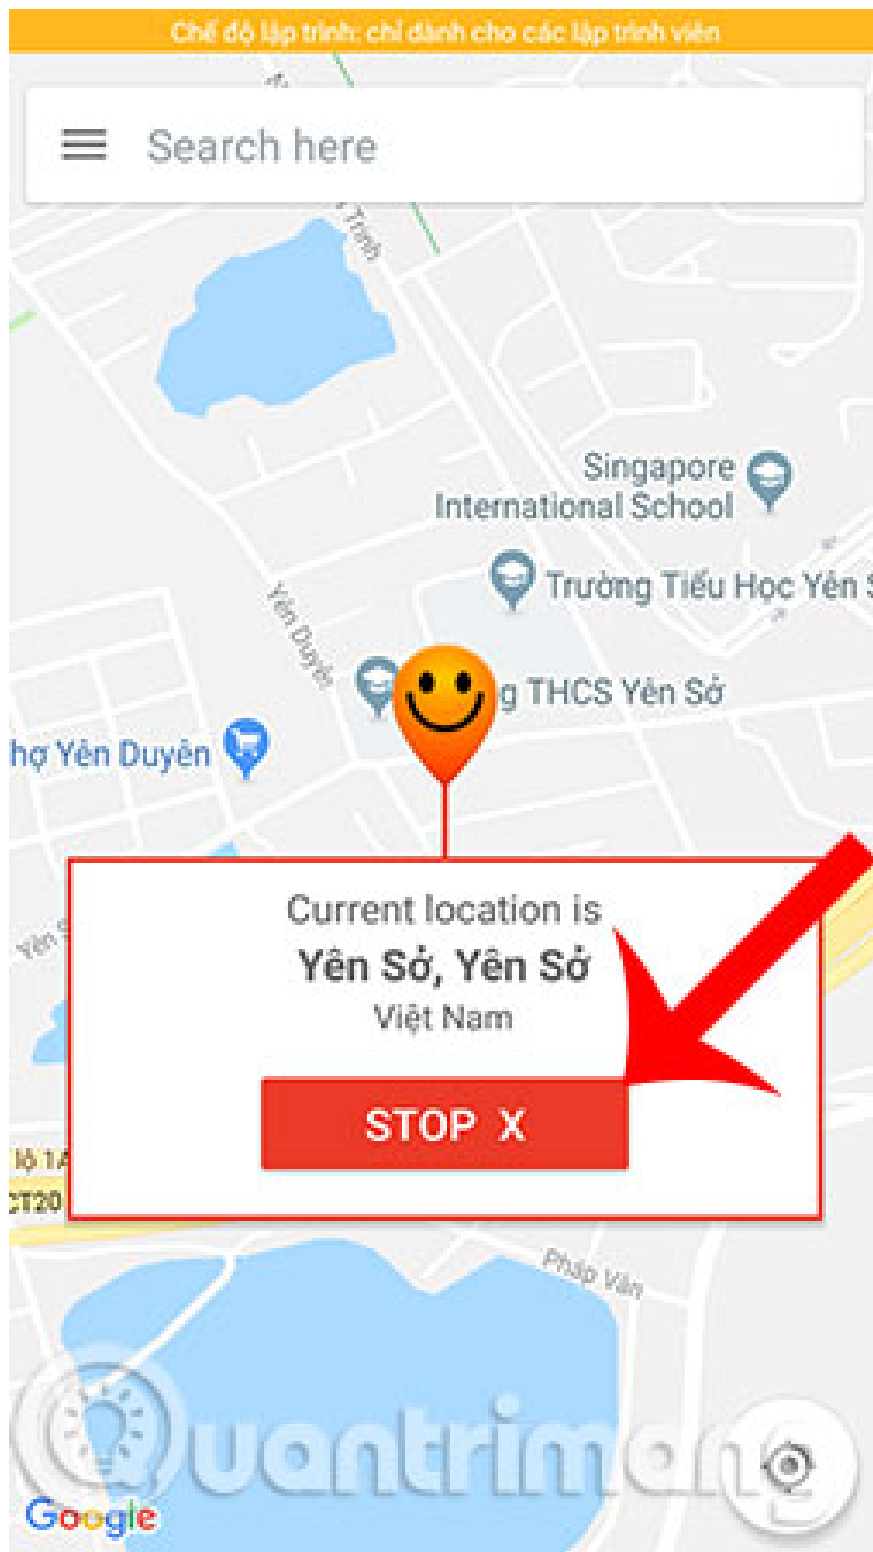

At this point, please click on that icon and move to any location where you want to create a fake location on Zalo.

Step 3:

Complete the step to select the position, you click on the Go button, it will turn red with the Stop button (stop). Then your exact location has been changed to the simulation position you want.

Note:

You need to enable developer mode on the device, then enable Allow simulating location, then the new application determines the exact location where you want to create a fake location.

Step 4:

Next, go to Zalo and select the Find around feature to see if the people around have been refreshed. A list of friends appears, you can find out and send friend invitations to people you want to chat with on Zalo.
