

How to create snowfall effect on Facebook Messenger

Facebook Messenger has updated the effect of creating snowfall when users chat with friends. With this effect, our conversation will be much more lively.

Along with Facebook, Facebook Messenger, chat and video call applications also became a popular application. We can still contact friends on Facebook's list, but work completely independent of Facebook, without affecting the process of surfing Facebook.

In particular, Facebook Messenger is also an application or update with many new and attractive features. And recently it was creating a snow effect when chatting with friends on Facebook Messenger. Instead of the simple white interface as before, continuous falling snowflakes with sounds that sound Christmas will make the conversation more interesting. Along with Network Administrator discover this new unique effect in the article below.

Create awesome effects on Facebook Messenger
