

How to disable desktop mode in Firefox Android

Firefox update 133 has been released for Android and this latest update enables desktop mode browsing by default.

Firefox 133 update has been released for Android and the latest update enables desktop mode browsing by default. So whenever you visit a website, it will open directly in the desktop version. This feature is designed for users with larger screens, but many users find it quite annoying. Here is how to disable desktop mode in Firefox Android.

How to turn off desktop mode in Firefox Android

Step 1:

On the Firefox browser interface, click on the 3-dot icon in the right corner and select Settings .

 Search

★ Google

★ Wikipedia

Collection

Collect the Group together for quick access later.

Bookmarks

History

Downloads

Passwords

Extensions

Synchronise and save data

What's New

Help

Customise homepage

Settings

Customise homepage

Step 2:

Switch to the settings interface for Firefox browser, scroll down and click on Site Settings to adjust the websites accessed on the browser.

← Settings

Set as default browser

Privacy and security

Private browsing

HTTPS-Only Mode

Off

Enhanced Tracking Protection

Standard

Site settings

Delete browsing data

Delete browsing data on quit

Off

Notifications

Allowed

Data collection

Advanced

Extensions

Step 3:

Now in the new interface you will see the setting to open the website in computer mode on Firefox browser. You just need to turn off the setting Always Request Desktop Site .

← Site settings

Content

Always request desktop site

Permissions

Autoplay
Block audio only

Camera
Blocked by Android

Location
Blocked by Android

Microphone
Blocked by Android

Notification
Ask to allow

Persistent Storage
Ask to allow

Cross-site cookies
Ask to allow

DRM-controlled content
Ask to allow

After completing the above setup, Firefox browser will not automatically open any website in desktop mode unless you manually enable it.

You finished reading the article "How to disable desktop mode in Firefox Android" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---