

How to disable the Upload to listen feature on iOS 10

The Upload to Play feature on iOS 10 is a new update feature, enabling users to listen to voice messages immediately when just pressing the screen.

One of the new features on iOS 10 that we want to introduce to you is Uploading to listen. If you often use and receive voice calls, this feature will help users a lot. As soon as we receive a voice message, you just need to bring the device up to listen to the voice message again or reply quickly if you want.

However, if we do not have the need to use the Upload feature to listen on this iOS 10, it can be customized right on the settings of iOS 10 operating system to disable this feature.

Step 1:

At the main interface of the screen, click on Settings . Next, scroll down and click Message .

Step 2:

At the Message customization interface, we scroll down under the Audio message section and slide the horizontal bar to the left to disable the Bring up to listen feature on iOS 10 devices.

As such, the Mode for uploading to listen is turned off on the device. Now when we receive an audio message and bring the device up to our ears, we won't hear that message anymore.
