

How to download Genshin Cloud, play Genshin without downloading

Genshin Impact Cloud is a new feature in Genshin Impact that allows players to experience the game on mobile platforms or web browsers without downloading and installing the game.

Genshin Impact Cloud is a new feature in Genshin Impact that allows players to experience the game on mobile platforms or web browsers without downloading and installing the game. This feature uses cloud technology to stream content directly to the player's device.

When using Genshin Impact Cloud, players can access the game from any mobile device or laptop or PC with a strong network connection. It brings convenience and flexibility to players, allowing players to experience Genshin Impact anytime and anywhere without having to worry about installing and updating games regularly on each device.

In order for players to be able to use Genshin Impact Cloud smoothly and stably, you need a high-speed and uninterrupted Internet connection. Besides, players can also use the features.

If you want to use Genshin Cloud, please see the instructions below to download Genshin Cloud to your device and try it out.

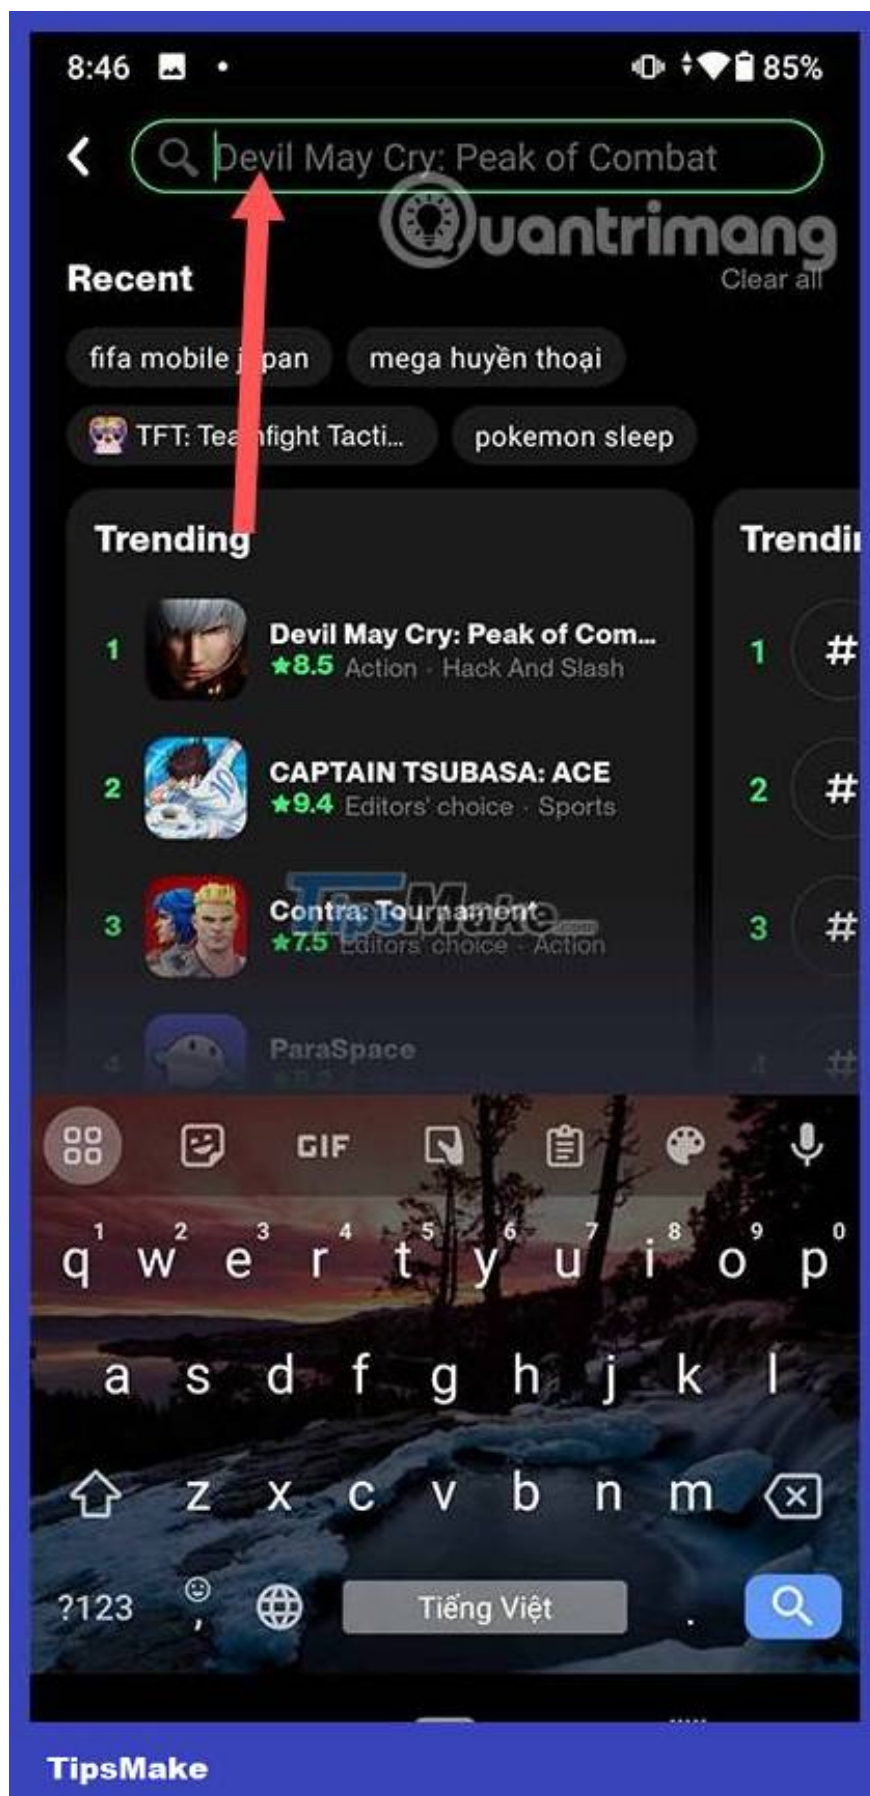

How to download Genshin Impact Cloud on CHPlay

Currently Genshin Impact does not allow players to download on CHPlay, so you must use foreign CHPlay. First, start a VPN application and Fake IP to Singapore or Malaysia. Next, go to Settings > Applications, select the CHPlay app and clear all memory, restart CHPlay, find the Genshin Impact Cloud app and download it.

Because playing on the cloud platform, the game will not be too jerky, many players without high configuration devices will experience Genshin Impact smoothly. In return, you must have a stable Internet connection to be able to play Genshin Impact smoothly.

Before the official release in Singapore, Malaysia and Indonesia, miHoYo released a beta version to ask for player opinions as well as measure the popularity of GICG from March 13, 2023 until March 20, 2023.

Currently, Vietnamese gamers cannot officially download Genshin Impact Cloud until miHoYo decides to expand this service to other countries. And it also only has an Android version and not yet on iOS.
