

How to 'famous' on YouTube?

Whether an individual or a business unit, you can take advantage of YouTube's video, sharing and commenting features to 'shine'.

Whether an individual or a business unit, you can take advantage of YouTube's video, sharing and commenting features to "shine".

The YouTube site acts as an online video content portal and is also a place for viewers to submit feedback to others over the Internet. To promote success, you can record videos, edit and upload. Write more comments, answer the viewers' comments wisely that will attract attention and stir up participants.

If you know how to promote your own image, it will shine on YouTube .

1. Unique content

Images need to be impressive. The expression must go far beyond the familiar thinking and actions of everyone. Comments should be brief, concise and profound. From there, viewers will have a good impression and remember your name.

2. Always pay attention to uploaded videos

Attractive content and keen comments always go hand in hand, to encourage viewers and encourage others to continue to write comments. That helps you expand as well as strengthen relationships including partners.

Old Spice is a convincing demonstration of how to prepare content with a clever strategy. With 40 million viewers in the first week, this business has become one of the most successful interactive campaign builders in history.

3. Know your advantages

Before uploading the video, you must clearly identify what you want to tell people, how you want your appearance to be attractive and the last thing you want to claim. You must also anticipate the questions posed by viewers. Your comment answers need a bit of humor but the attitude must be consistent so as not to cause distraction.

4. Analysis of feedback data

Based on what people respond to like "likes" and "dislikes" on YouTube, you can speculate on what discussion should be popular and what shouldn't. From there, you can easily get more positive comments.

5. Cross promotion

YouTube videos can be shared on other social networks, so no matter what platform you use, you can use the same positive commenting method to interact and attract people to know. come to me.

Register an account

If you have not registered an account on the YouTube page, you can see the following instructions. First go to <http://www.youtube.com> , click Sign Up . Enter your account information you want to register with username (username you want to create), select Location as Vietnam, select the date of birth and select I accept . Switch to enter the correct address of the email and password to enter the security code and then click Create New Account . At the end of this step, you already have an account on the YouTube page.

Upload videos

Click Sign In and enter your username and password to log in to your account. After successfully entering, click on your account name and select My Videos . Select New and Video Upload to upload the clip. You start looking for a folder that has videos saved on your computer by clicking Browse , then clicking Upload Video .

Depending on your network connection and depending on how heavy or light your video is, the upload process is fast or slow. Sometimes videos weighing 100MB can take up to 2 hours, you have to wait patiently.

Next, click on your account name again and click My Video again . Now your video has been uploaded to YouTube, but you have to wait for your video to be automatically converted to flv format for lightness so that it will be faster.

You finished reading the article "How to 'famous' on YouTube?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

