

How to find product information on Lazada via camera

Just capture the product you want to learn by scanning on Lazada so you can learn all information about that product on Lazada.

When you want to find information about a product you have no information about it, such as packaging, QR codes or names. You will ask those who own the product or those who know about the product.

But there is another way that you can scan the camera to identify the product via Lazada application. This feature will provide you with information about the product you are looking for, however the information about that product only appears when Lazada is selling that product on its product list.

If you want to find product information via camera on Lazada, you can look at the guide below this article.

The product I captured here is iPhone 6s, but Lazada will only show iPhone accessories and not iPhone products. Because it is impossible to know the front side of iPhone 6, 6s, 7 or 8 because all 4 models have identical fronts.
