

How to Find the Font Used on a Website with WhatFont

Have you ever liked a font some website is using? Want to know which font the website is using? Here is a simple solution, which allows you to quickly collect all the font details a web page is using. Open Google chrome browser on your...

Method 1 of 1:

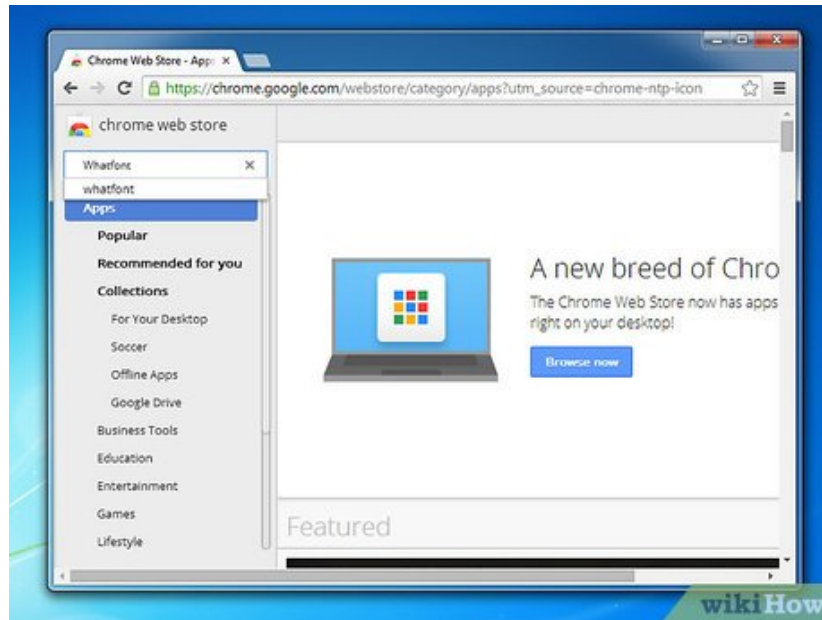

Using Google Chrome Extension: WhatFont

1.

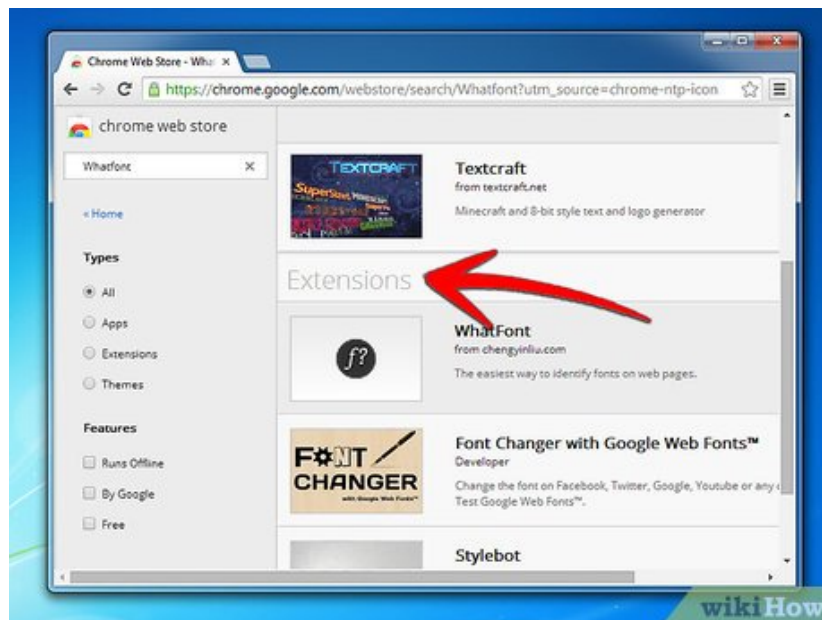

Open Google chrome browser on your computer.

4.

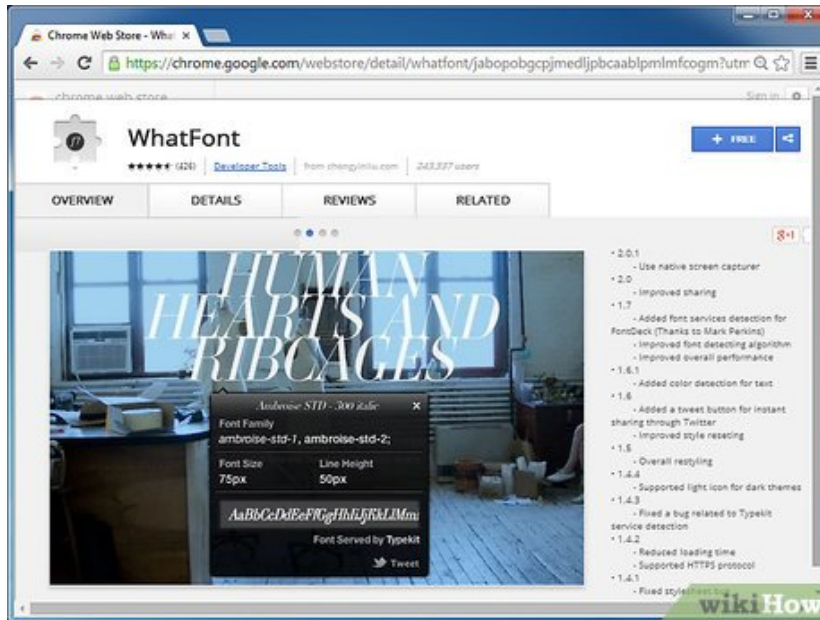

Search for "Whatfont" in the search box.

5.

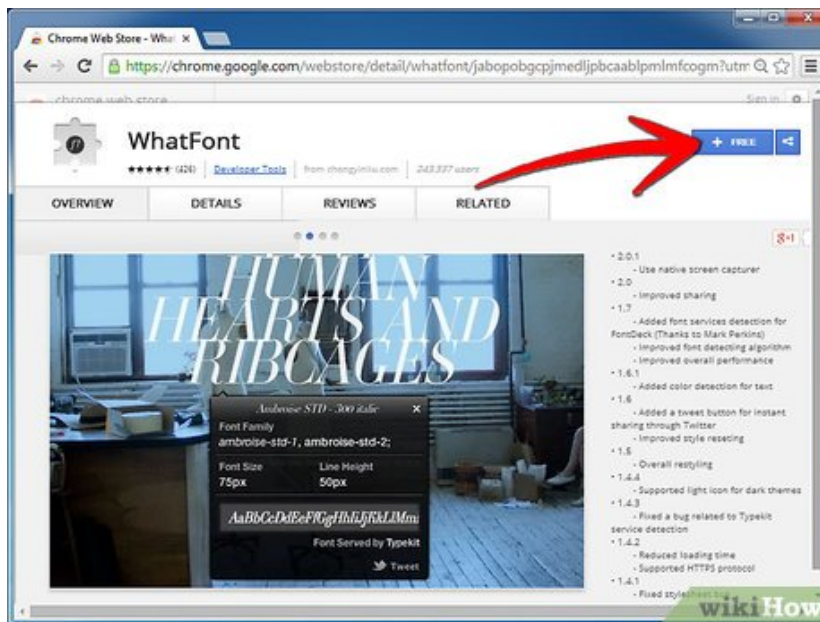

Click on the extensions tab.

6.

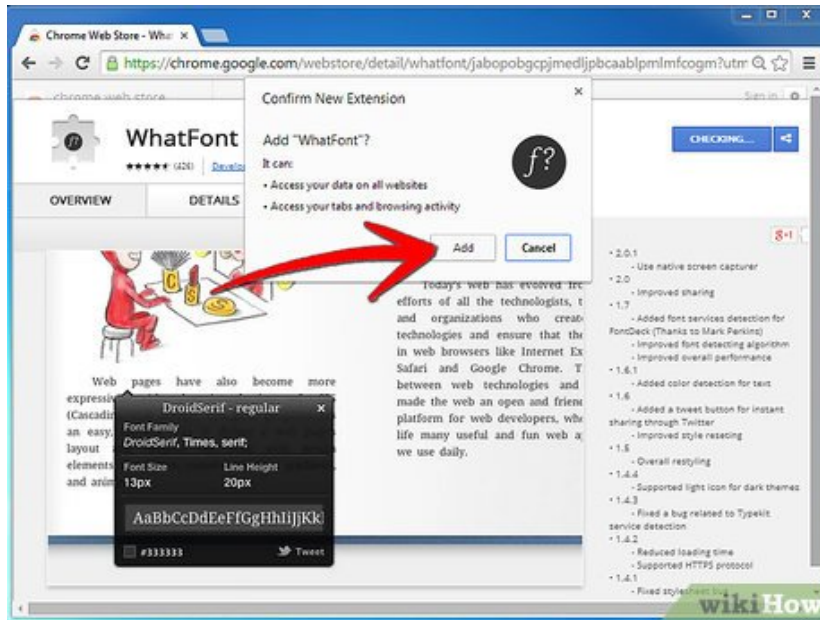

Open the search result "WhatFont" to read more about it. Read the description of the extension on the right, and other information such as the ratings and number of downloads.

7.

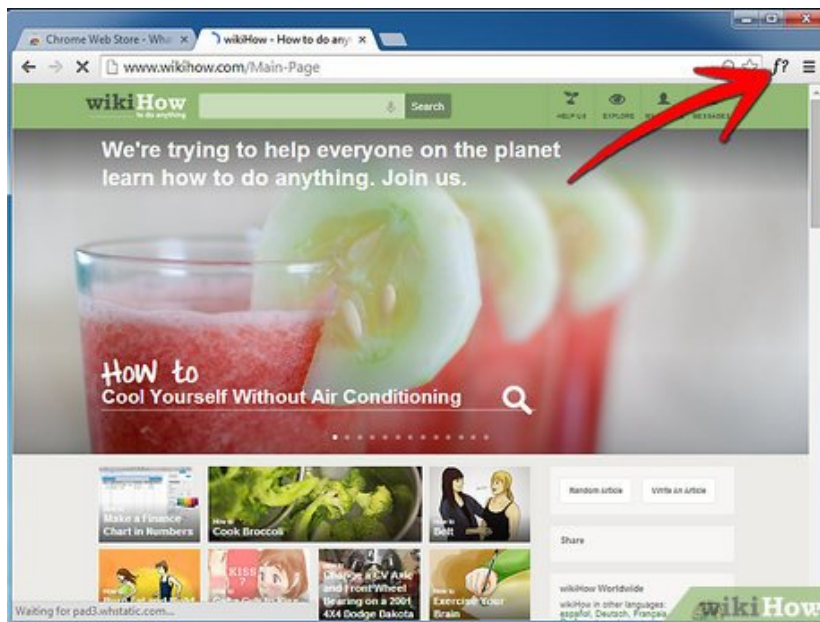

Click on the "+free" button on the right side.

8.

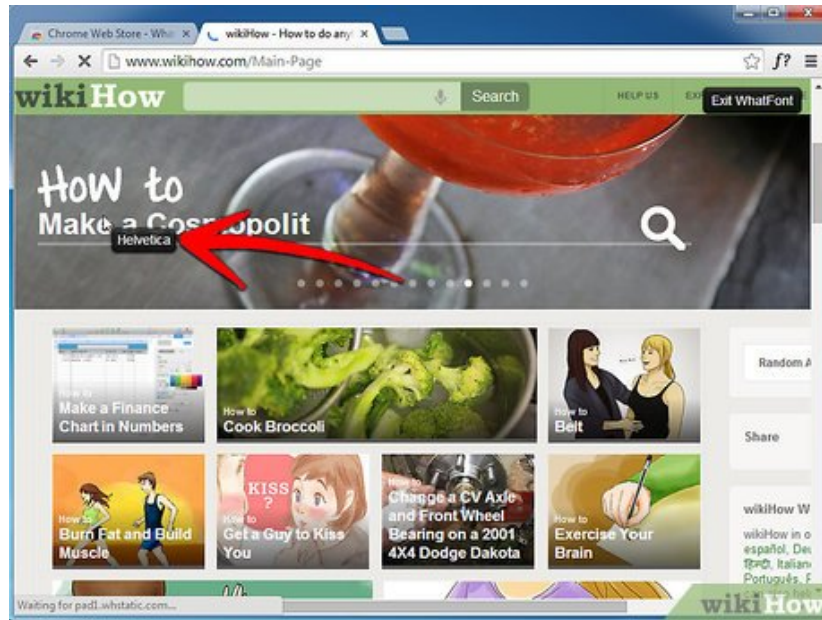

Click on "add" from the window that pops up. As you can see, the WhatFont Button has been installed on your Google Chrome browser.

9.

Navigate to a website and Click on this "WhatFont" button.

10.

Click on any text portion of the website to determine the font details. This is how you can collect all font details.

You finished reading the article "How to Find the Font Used on a Website with WhatFont" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.