Genos M4A1 skin in Free Fire

M4A1 - Genos is a pistol skin for M4A1, providing an extremely high rate of fire but in exchange for a modest amount of ammo. The gun has a metal texture, similar to the metal alloy One Punch Man's Genos character has. It looks stunning, surrounded by yellow LEDs.

The new M4A1 Genos skin is part of a collaboration between Free Fire and One Punch Man. It was only available in Weapons Royale for 18 days. Players must use diamonds to spin and get this skin. However, it should be noted that the chances of getting the M4A1 Genos skin are not guaranteed. You cannot be sure to win it after a certain number of shots. Each spin costs 40 diamonds, but you can buy 11 spins for just 400 diamonds.

The more spins you make, the more chances you will get the M4A1 Genos skin. However, there is no 100% guarantee that you will get it. Follow these steps to try your luck in Weapon Royale.
