Here's how to craft and enchant the Toxic Spire Fishing Rod in Fisch

The Toxic Spire is one of the coolest looking fishing rods in Fisch. But who gets a fishing rod just for its looks? Don't worry, the Toxic Spire also has one of the coolest passive effects in the game.

So if you're looking to get your hands on this rod, you've come to the right place. In this guide, we'll show you how to get the Toxic Spire Fishing Rod in Fisch, its stats, and the best enchantments you can use.

Materials needed to craft the Toxic Spire Fishing Rod in c

The Toxic Spire Fishing Rod can only be obtained through crafting in the Ancient Archives area in Fisch. But before you can craft it, you'll need some materials. Here's a list of the items you'll need, along with tips on finding them:

1. Poisoned Driftwood (x1): To get Driftwood, you can fish anywhere or use crab cages. It's best to use a fishing rod with low Luck or use bait like garbage in Fisch. After getting Driftwood, use the appraisal method in Fisch to get the Poisoned mutation. You can also continue fishing in Lost Jungle to catch Poisoned Driftwood.
2. Toxic Core (x1): This is an ingredient found only in one of the puzzles in the Forgotten Temple. Go to the second room of the Forgotten Temple and complete the climbing puzzle before the water rises. At the end of the path, you will find the Toxic Core.
3. Murky Thread (x1): For this item, you must go to the fifth room of the puzzle area. Cross the water and get Murky Thread in Fisch.
