

How to get Zombified mutation in Grow a Garden Roblox

The Zombified mutation in Grow a Garden does not cause the plant to rot or lose quality. On the contrary, it significantly increases the selling value of the fruit.

Grow a Garden in Roblox is getting more and more creative in the way it creates new mutations for plants. Most recently in the Blood Moon update, the game took inspiration from the Chicken Jockey trend of the Minecraft Movie.

In the Blood Moon update, the game takes inspiration from the Minecraft Movie's 'Chicken Jockey' trend, bringing an interesting mutant variation: Zombified.

While it may sound scary, the Zombified mutation doesn't cause the plant to rot or deteriorate in quality. Instead, it increases the resale value of the fruit significantly, while also giving it a striking neon green glow that you can show off to your friends. Here's how you get the Zombified Mutation.

Quick summary:

1. The Zombified mutation can only be obtained through the Chicken Zombie pet in Grow a Garden.
2. Zombie Chicken's passive has a 20.27% chance to turn a random fruit into Zombified every 29.46 minutes.
3. The Zombified mutation increases the selling value of fruits by 25 times in Grow a Garden.

How to get Zombified Mutation

For the first time in Grow a Garden, players can create mutations from their pets' intrinsic. And to get the Zombified mutation, you need to own a Chicken Zombie pet on your farm.

How to do it

1. First you need to have Chicken Zombie, go to the garden , take Chicken Zombie out and left click on an empty land to release the animal. Wait for Chicken Zombie's passive to be automatically activated without you having to do anything else.

How does Chicken Zombie's passive work?

Every 29.46 minutes (default value when pet is level 1), Chicken Zombie has a 20.27% chance to cause a random fruit in the garden to get Zombified. It also increases egg hatching speed by 10.14%.

To optimize performance, remember to feed your pet crops regularly to keep it full and gain experience points (XP), thereby increasing the chance of mutations appearing.

Zombified Mutation Multiplier

1. Zombified fruits currently have no special functions other than greatly increasing their resale value.

2. Up to 25x multiplier helps you make big profits when selling Zombified fruits.
3. Plus, you can keep it in your backpack to show off to your friends, especially those who have never seen this mutant.
