

How to Know if a Message Was Delivered on Apple Messages

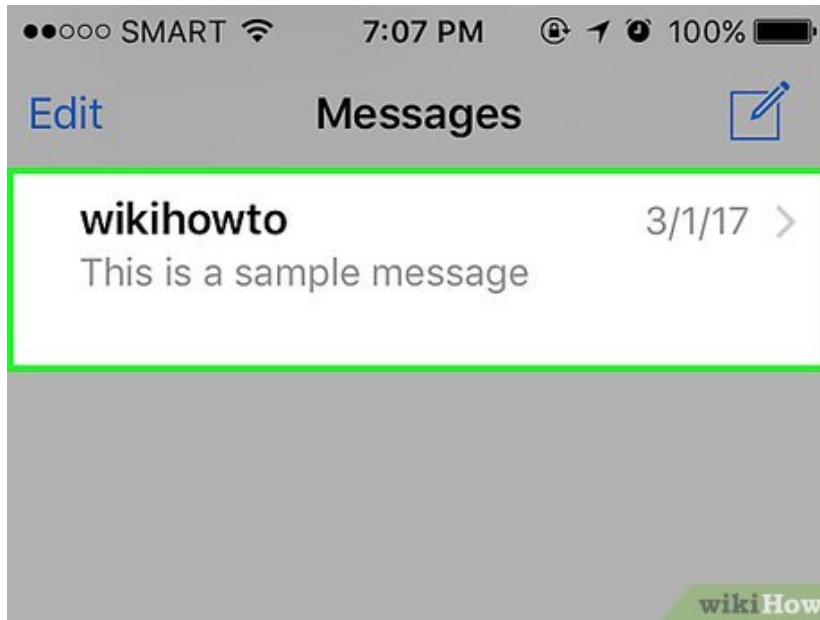

To find out if a message was delivered on Apple Messages, open Messages ? Select a conversation ? Check that 'Delivered' appears under your last message. Tap on the Messages app.

Method 1 of 2:

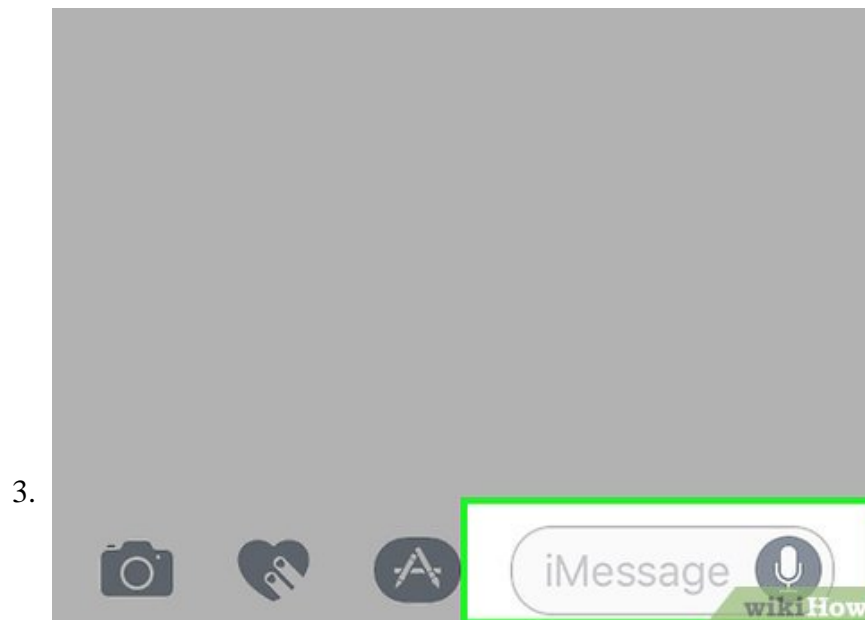

iOS

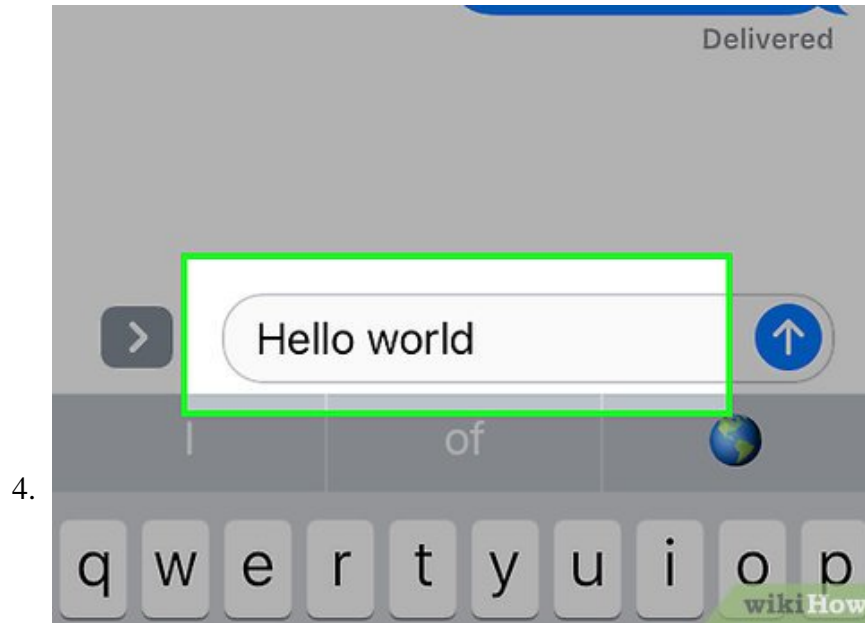

Tap on the Messages app.

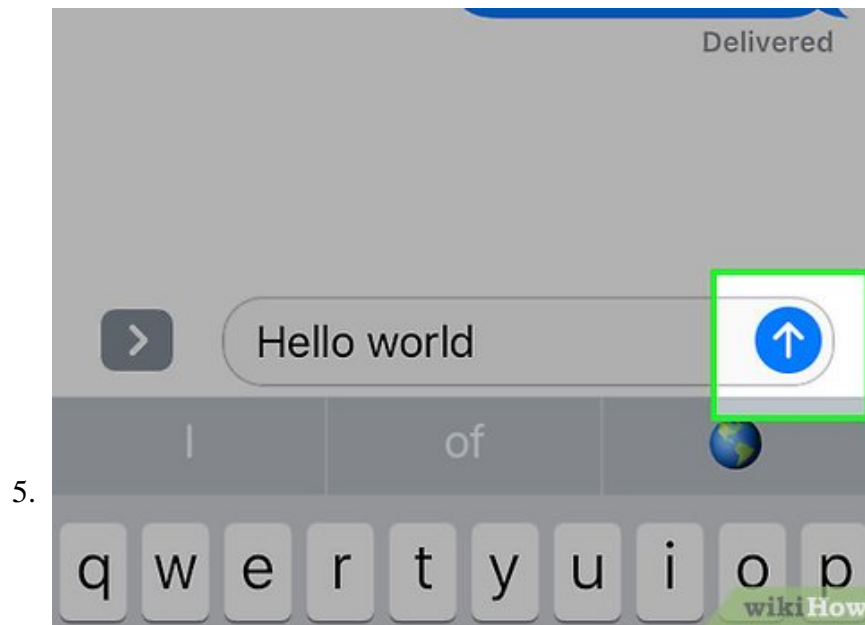

Tap a conversation.

Tap on the text field. It's located right above your keyboard.

Type in a message.

Tap the blue arrow button. Doing so will send your message.

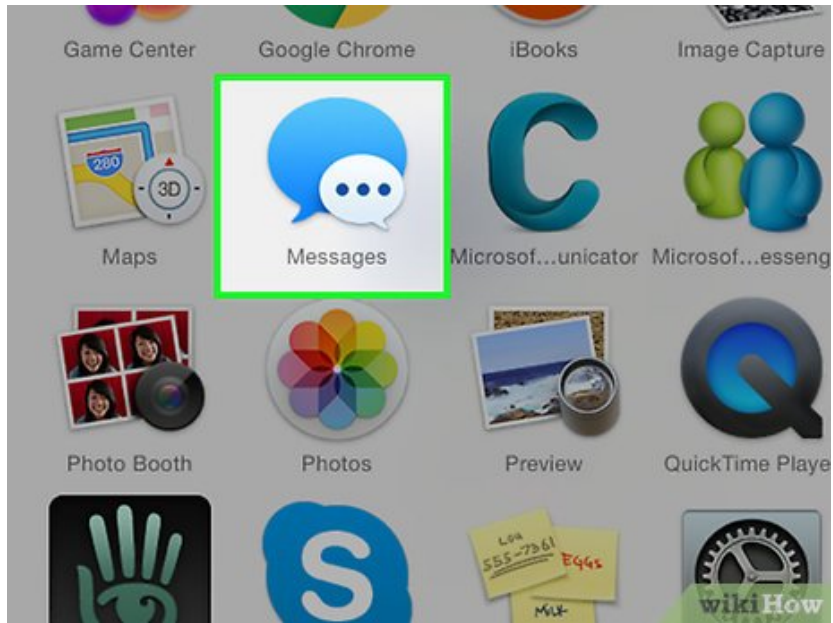

Look for 'Delivered' under your last message. It will appear just below the message bubble.

1. If your message does not say 'Delivered', check the top of your screen to see if it says 'Sending...' or 'Sending 1 of X'.
2. If you see nothing listed under your last message, your message has not yet been delivered.
3. If "Send Read Receipts" is enabled by the recipient, then it will change to "Read" once the message has actually been seen.
4. If you see "Sent as a Text Message," that means your message was sent using your carrier's SMS service rather than Apple's iMessage servers.

Method 2 of 2:

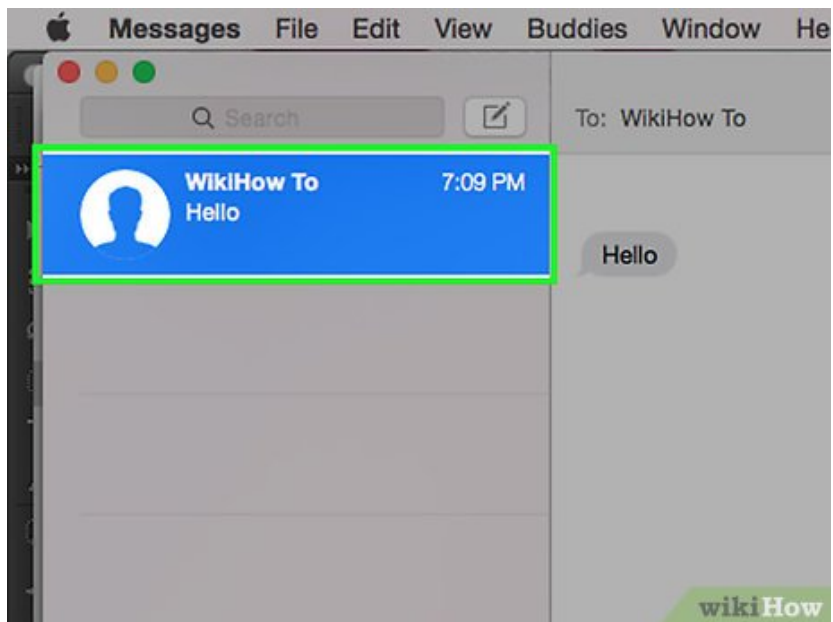

Mac

1.

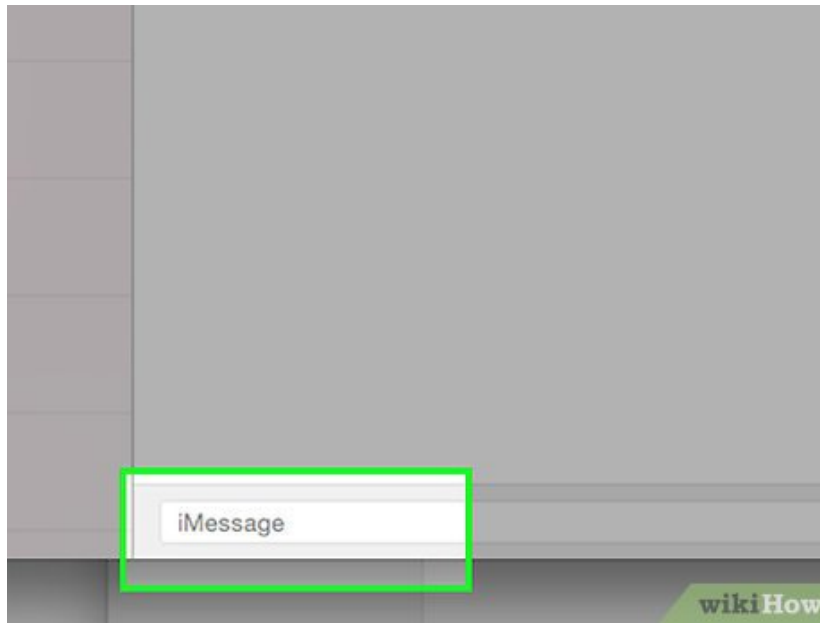

Open the Messages app.

2.

Click on a conversation.

3.

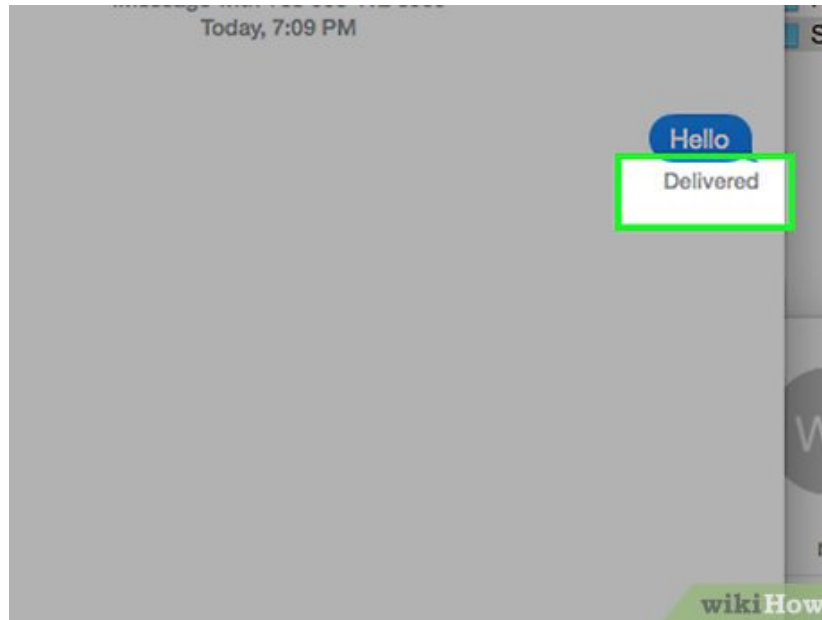

Type in a message.

4.

Press Enter.

5.

Look for 'Delivered' under your last message. It will appear just below the message bubble.

1. If "Send Read Receipts" is enabled by the recipient, then it will change to "Read" once the message has actually been seen.
2. If you see "Sent as a Text Message," that means your message was sent using your carrier's SMS service rather than Apple's iMessage servers.
3. If you see nothing listed under your last message, your message has not yet been delivered.

You finished reading the article "How to Know if a Message Was Delivered on Apple Messages" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.