

How to let others upload files to your Google Drive

Drive Uploader is a website for others to upload files to your personal Google Drive without an account.

To upload any file to your personal Google Drive account, you need to upload it yourself. However, with the Drive Uploader website, users can completely ask others to upload files to their Google Drive account, without having to provide their account information.

Users do not need to directly upload files, or download files before uploading to individual Google Drive. Drive Uploader will create an intermediate website for others to share files to your Google Drive. As soon as someone else uploads the file to the Drive account, we will receive a notification to the email address. The following article will guide you how to use Drive Uploader to share files on Google Drive.

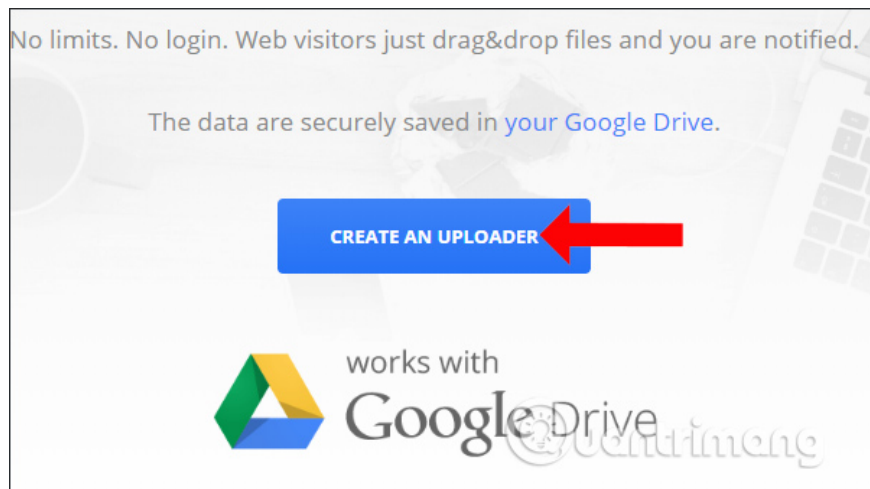

1. How to limit the time of sharing links on Google Drive
2. How to change folder ownership in Google Drive
3. How to download files on Google Drive when the download limit is exceeded
4. How to download multiple files on Google Drive without extracting

Instructions for creating upload Drive Uploader page

Step 1:

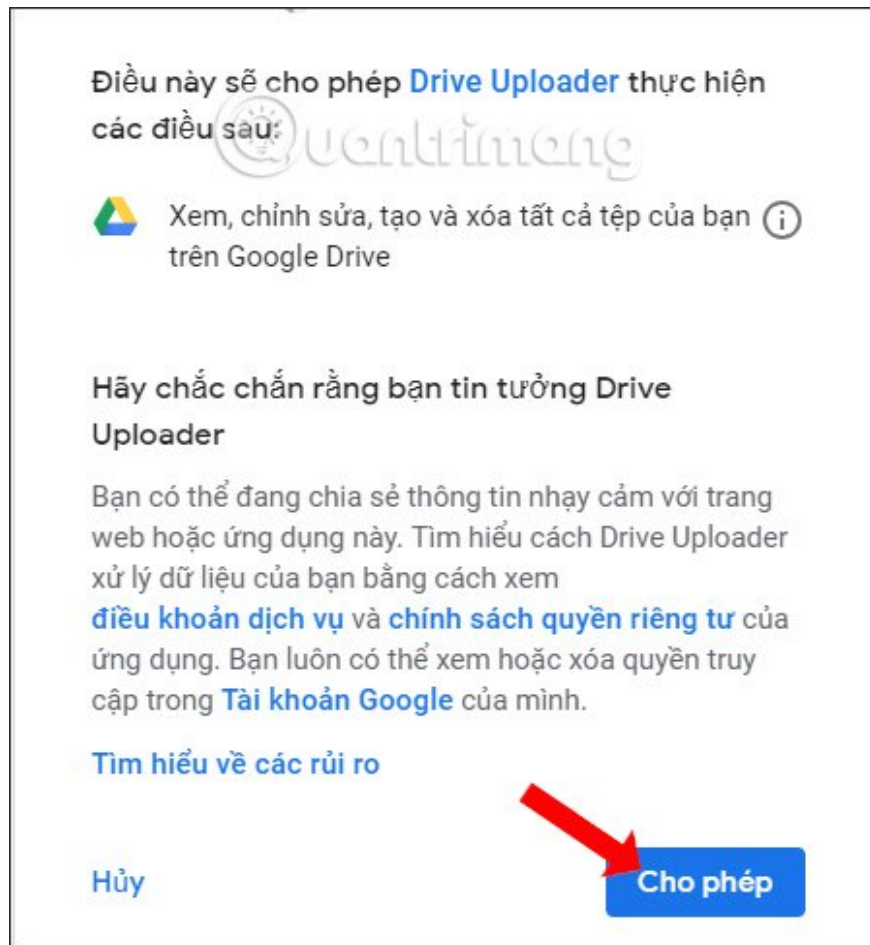

Users access the Drive Uploader homepage under the link below and then click Create an uploader .

In addition, when you click Advanced settings, you will see some other options.

1. Destination folder: Select the saved folder for the uploaded file. Default is Drive Uploader.
2. Quantity: Option to upload one (One file at time) or multiple files (Multiple files).
3. Create subfolders with a upload timestamp for each: Create a subfolder for the upload file with the upload time.
4. File types: Select the file format to upload.

Finally, click the Save button below to save the settings for the file upload command on Driver.

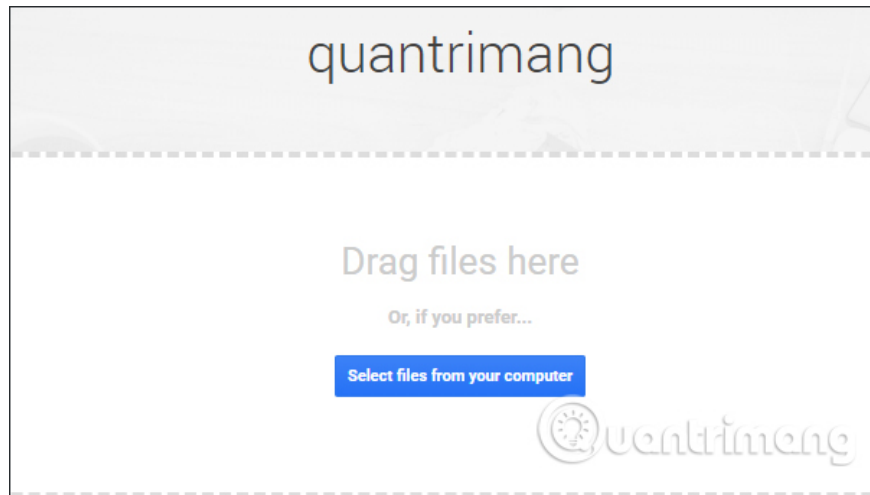

The screenshot shows the configuration interface for DriveUploader. It includes a text input field for the destination folder set to "DriveUploader", a "Select" button, and a "Quantity" section with radio buttons for "Multiple files" (selected) and "One file at time". There is a checked checkbox for "Create subfolders with a timestamp for each upload" and a tip: "TIP: Custom defined subfolder with API". The "File types" section has radio buttons for "Any file extension" (selected), "Images only (jpg, jpeg, png, gif)", "Documents (doc, docx, xls, xlsx, pdf, odt, ods)", and "Custom list". A "Save" button is at the bottom left, and the "Quantrimang" logo is at the bottom right.

As a result, we have a website link to others upload files to your personal Google Drive account. Click Copy Link to save the link or share the link right on Facebook, Twitter.

Step 4:

We send this link to the person who wants to share the file to your Google Drive. The interface for downloading files is displayed with the upload page name you set. Click Select files from your computer or drag and drop files into the interface.

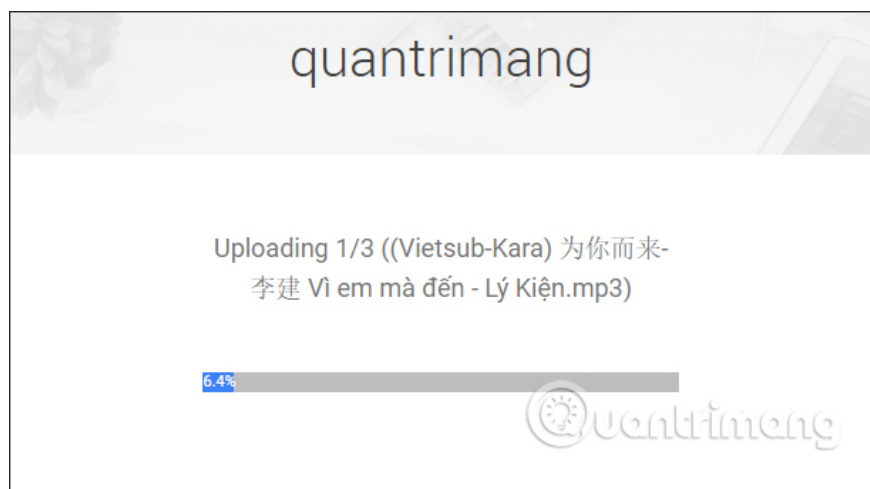

If the person who created the upload page has a setting that requires entering the email address and the name of the downloader, please fill in the interface as shown below. Click Continue to continue.

The main content area features the text "Please, enter your name and email to continue:" in a grey font. Below this text are two input fields: "Your name" and "Your email", each with a horizontal line underneath. At the bottom center, there is a blue button with the text "Continue" in white, which is highlighted with a red rectangular border.

Step 5:

The process of uploading files to your Drive account is then carried out. If downloading multiple files, this process takes place in turn.

Step 6:

When the files are uploaded we receive a message to send to the email , if enabled Send me a notification after upload.

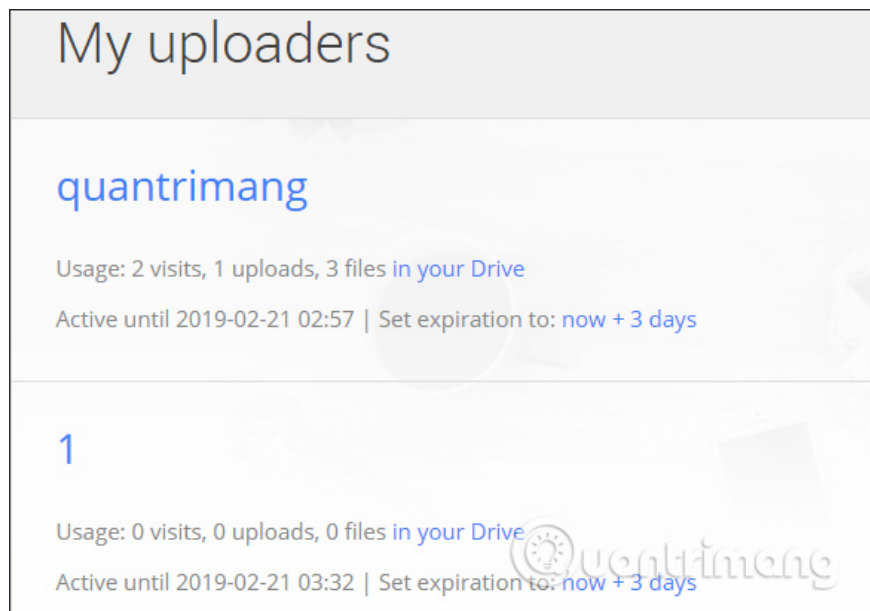

If you open a Google Drive account, you will see files uploaded by others saved in a separate Drive Uploader folder or folder of your choice.

Users can create multiple pages to upload files to Google Drive completely free. To manage the created upload page, go back to the Drive Uploader interface and click My uploaders .

Here the entire upload page is displayed. You will know the details for each page with the number of uploaders, the number of uploaded files. Each upload page has a shelf life of 4 days from the creation date.

Step 7:

Also at this interface we will see the Edit option to edit the created upload page, including editing the name as well as adjusting the page settings. Delete to delete the created page.

Instead of having to upload the file yourself, with Drive Uploader, users can ask others to upload the file to their personal Drive account. You will be notified of any file upload action on Drive. Type of file download format via Drive Uploader will not be as limited as when downloading files to Google Drive.
