How to make sedge shaped keychains

Step 1:

Use a pencil to draw a circle about 5cm in diameter on a piece of cardboard, then take a scissors along the line drawn to get a round piece of cardboard.

Step 2:

Loop the rope around the edge of the cover plate and remove the glue to fix the rope. You should apply a little bit of glue to the rope so that the rope is stiff and always keeps the circle even.

Step 3:

Wait until the glue dries, remove the cardboard, and get a small circle made of rope. You can create small circles with this rope big or smaller depending on the size of the phone hook you desire.

Step 4:

Then, gently roll the rope inside the circle in a spiral. In between each wire, apply a little bit of glue to make the rope bond. Go to the 8th round, then stop, wait for the glue to dry.

Then, you roll a loop of wire over the previous round of wire and then roll on the other loops stacked high in a spiral to make the cap.

Do the same thing until you finish the hat, then drop the excess cord into the inside of the hat and then cut the rope and use a fixed adhesive firmly.

Step 5:

Attach a small bow to the outside of the hat to decorate.

You thread multi-colored wooden beads into a black parachute cord and paste it inside the brim.

Then, attach the hat to the key chain to form a complete sedge-shaped keychains.

So you have a lovely gift to give to your best friend in the upcoming Vietnamese Women's Day October 20 .
