Step 1:

You cut red, light pink and dark pink paperboard into small strips of paper about 0.5cm wide. Or you can buy pre-cut colored paperboard roll for sale at handmade or stationery stores.

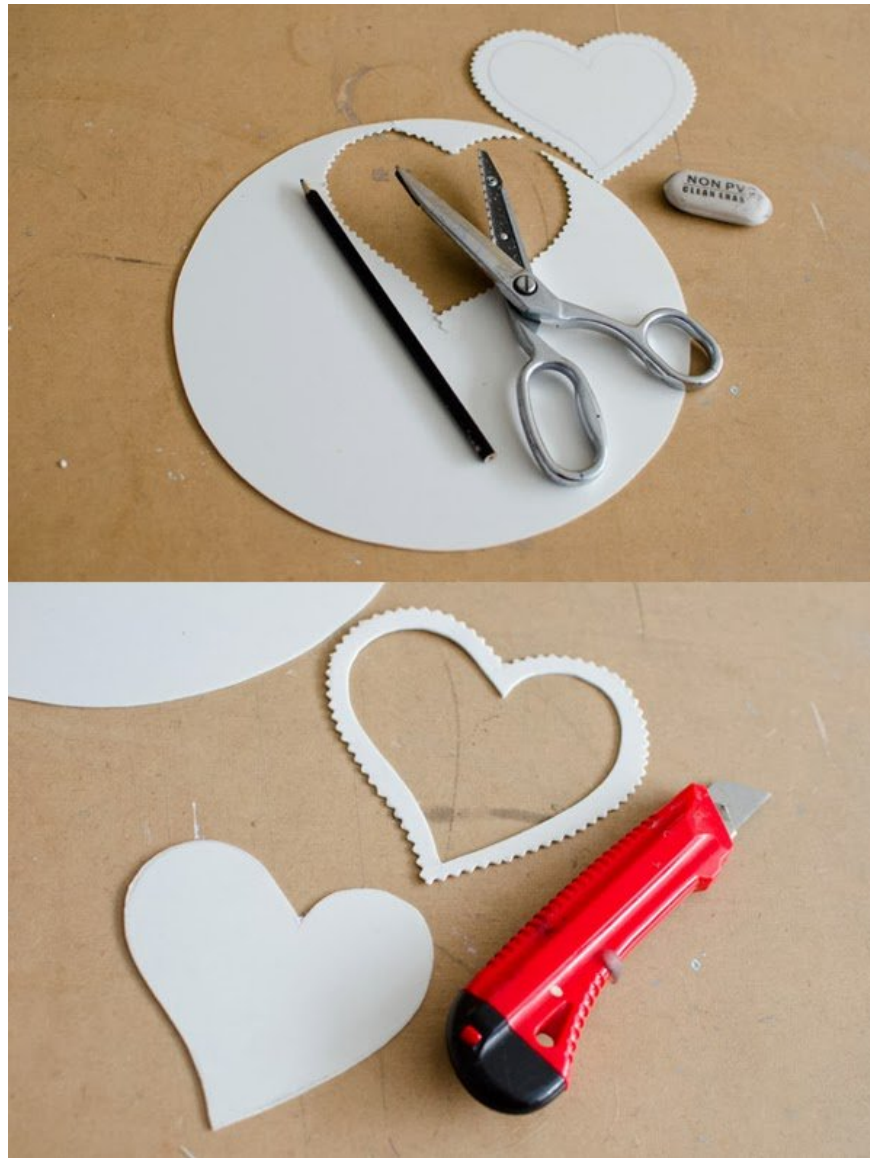

Then you use a toothpick or a paper roll tool, place the strip on the edge and then curl it to create the scrolls as shown. When the roll is finished, you use the adhesive to fix the paper roll so that the roll does not pop out.

Do the same with paper strips of different colors and short lengths to get different sizes of paper rolls, when decorating the cards will be more sparkling and beautiful.

Step 2:

Using a pencil, draw a heart shape on the white paperboard of arbitrary size to make the cover of the card. After that, draw a smaller heart shape inside the heart shape, which is about 1cm apart.

Use a large cut out of the big heart shape, then cut a small heart with a paper knife, and get a heart-shaped frame.

If you don't have a serrated blade, you can cut it with regular scissors and then trim out small details to make the card more vivid.

If you want your 20-10 card to be more rigid and thick, then place the cut-heart-shaped frame on the paperboard and cut the border to get similar sized heart frames. Use glue to superimpose frames on each other.

Step 3:

Put the scrolls into the heart frame and then fix the rolls with the milk glue.

Step 4:

After that, you roll up the small rolls of paper to put in the empty positions in the frame, using the glue to attach the milk.

Cut a piece of ribbon into the heart shape and tighten it. You can tie the bow so that the card looks more beautiful.

So you have completed the card 20 - 10 very simple sweet heart shapes.

This heart-shaped card will be a romantic love message that you can send to your special women on the upcoming Vietnamese Women's Day October 20.
