

How to manually enter passwords on iPhone, iPad for applications, websites

iOS 11 makes managing passwords easier. You do not need to remember or use third-party applications to manage and use passwords. With the integrated password manager in iOS 11, you can easily log in to your favorite applications.

iPhone makes managing passwords easier. You do not need to remember or use third-party applications to manage and use passwords. With the built-in password manager in iPhone running iOS 11, iOS 12 and above, you can easily log in to your favorite applications without having to type your password manually anymore, or install another app.

Apple calls it the Password AutoFill for Apps feature - Automatically enter the password for the application. To use this feature, you only need to save the username and password and the password manager will do the rest.

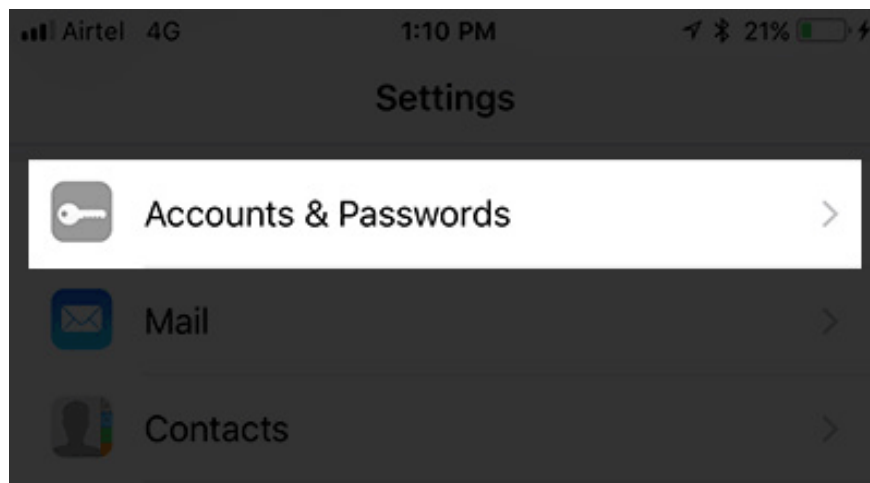

Please follow the instructions below to know how to save passwords, automatically enter passwords, view saved passwords, delete passwords on the web, iPhone applications.

How to use Password AutoFill for Apps iPhone

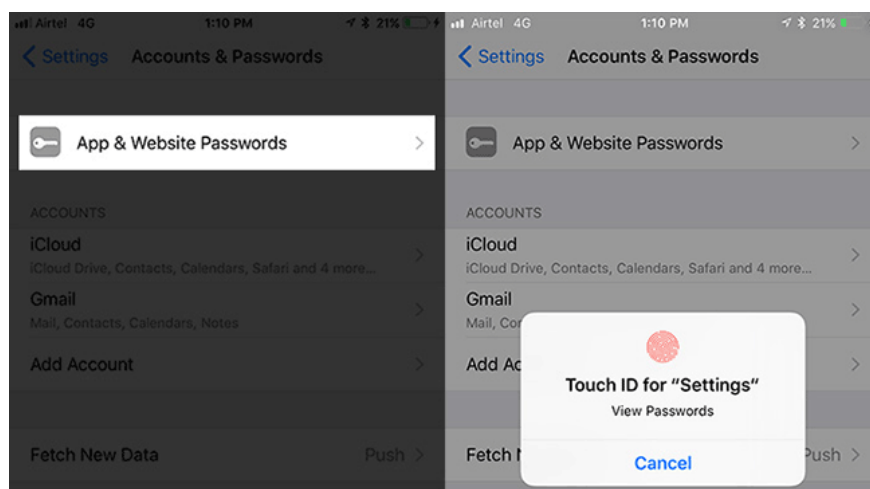

1. How to save passwords for applications on iPhone
2. How to automatically enter passwords for applications on iPhone
3. How to view saved passwords on iOS 11
4. How to manage password autofill for web, app on iOS 11
5. Delete the application / website in Password AutoFill for Apps

How to save passwords for applications on iPhone

Open the next Settings > app, scroll down and click Accounts & Passwords.

Now, click on App & Website Passwords .

Scroll down and click Add Password .

Next, enter the site name, username and password> click Done to confirm:

How to automatically enter passwords for applications on iPhone

Open the application / website that has saved the password. Click the field to enter your username, the information will appear right above the keyboard. Click on the username.

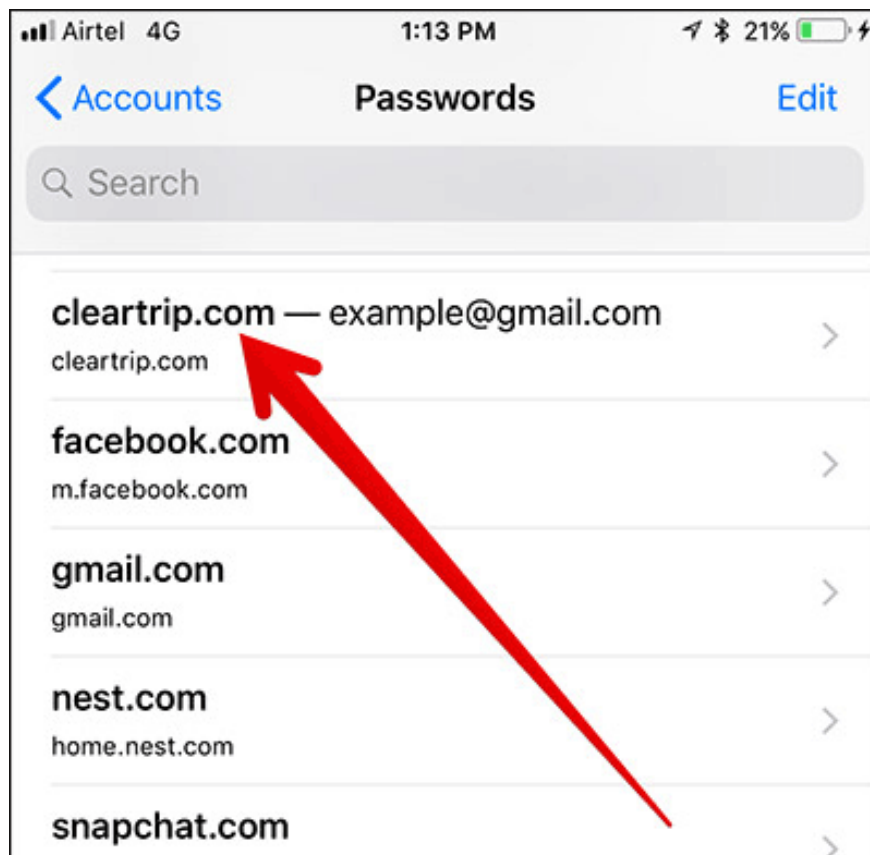

Username and password will be automatically filled out. Now, just click the login button.

How to view saved passwords on iOS 11

Go to Settings > Accounts & Passwords > App & Website Passwords . Click on the application / website name.

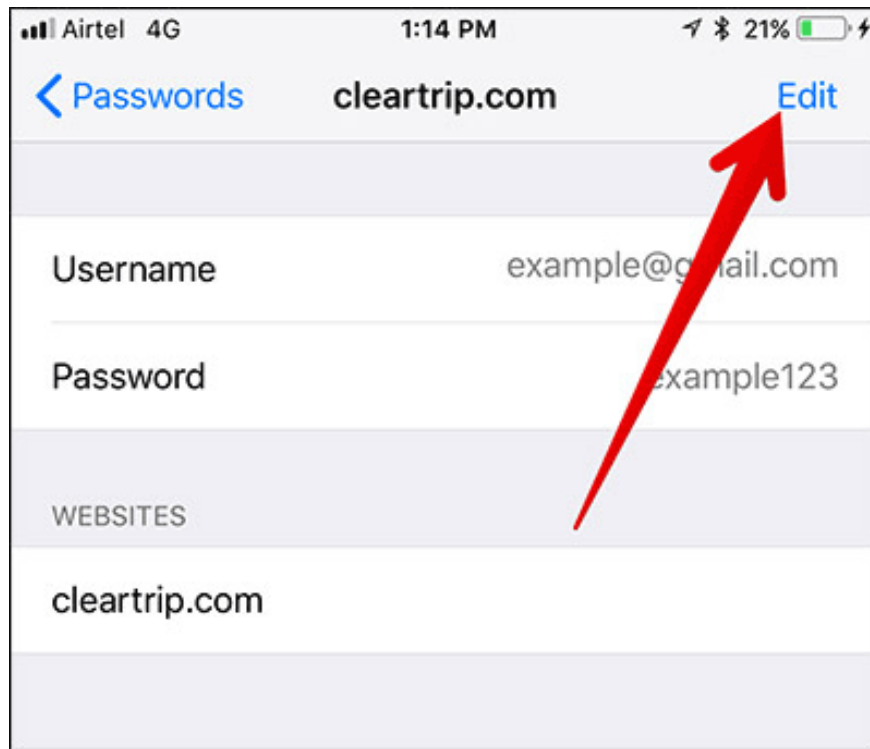

Here, you will see the username, password and related website name.

How to manage password autofill for web, app on iOS 11

Go to Settings > Accounts & Passwords > App & Website Passwords . Click on the site name> click Edit in the top right corner.

Next, edit the account and password> touch Done to confirm.

If you want to delete the site, click the red button on the left and then click the Delete icon in red.

Delete the application / website in Password AutoFill for Apps

You can delete application passwords that you don't want to save. Go to Settings > Accounts & Passwords > App & Website Passwords > touch Edit at the top > select application > touch Delete in the top left corner.

With this auto-fill feature, logging into your web pages and applications on the iPhone will be much more pleasant.

See more:

You finished reading the article "How to manually enter passwords on iPhone, iPad for applications, websites" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

---